Disaster.- A Brig was discovered ashore this morning off to the northeast of Gr Nantucket. She was boarded and found to be the Genl Taylor of Waldoboro Me. a new vessel, loaded with Pictou Coal. No person was found on board, & the supposition is that her crew left her the evening before, after the sun ashore. Her boats were gone, some of her sails hoisted &c &c. A gold watch and other valuable articles were found in the Cabin. The vessel did not leak any of Consequence.

It has been ascertained to day that the crew of Brig Genl Taylor. are not on Muskegit, and as nothing has been heard from them they are supposed to be lost. She was Commanded by Capt John Libby, and was from Pictou, bound to Fall River. A Yawl boat, a compass and an oar were found at Muskegit, to day. footsteps were seen on the beach, and a fire had recently been made in the Humane House there; all of which have led those who have been there to suppose that the crew landed on that Island, and left again in their long boat. It has been found that the crew consisted of seven men, including the Captain and Officers; Several trunks were found in the cabin, and from appearances it is judged that there were some few passengers on board. The Brig is light, upright, and lays in five feet water at low tide, and after discharging part of her Cargo, will come off. She is a new and substancial vessel. Sloop Laura, with a crew, went to her assistance to day, but there was so much sea that she could not lay alongside.

Her log is found to be written up to 4 P.M. on Saturday, Nantucket bearing South.

DISASTER AT SEA.—A letter from W. H. Luce, first officer of whaling ship Congress, of Mystic, dated Western Islands, Aug. 15, states that about three weeks previous in lat. 39 20, lon. 48 50, Capt. Taylor and the steward went into the run of the vessel to procure a keg of paint, and in passing it up on deck the steward accidentally broke a car of turpentine, the contents of which took fire from a lamp, and in an instant the cabin was enveloped in flames. They immediately rushed on deck, their clothing having also taken fire in consequence of the turpentine which had attached to them, and which Mr. Luce vainly endeavored to subdue by pouring water upon them. The clothes of the steward had become saturated with the inflammable liquid, and were literally burned upon him, so that he died in intense suffering on the following day. The crew exerted themselves in pouring water down the trunk-light and succeeded in removing four bags of powder from the transom of the ship, and finally extinguished the flames. Captain Taylor was badly burned, chiefly at his feet, ankles, and hands, and was confined to his bed until the arrival of the ship at Fayal a few days after the accident, when he was removed on shore for medical attendance. Mr. Luce was also slightly burned. Mr. Luce shipped four hands at Fayal and proceeded on a cruise for whales, but without success, and returned to Fayal about the 15th of August for Capt. Taylor, who had so far recovered as to be able to resume his duties in proceeding on the voyage. The Congress had taken no oil.—N. B. Mercury.

Brig Genl. Taylor, came off this afternoon, after discharging about 190 tons coal, which will be taken to Edgartown, where the Brig will go to take it in, and from thence proceed to Fall River. She is perfectly tight. The Captain & crew are safe & went on board their vessel to day. It appears that they left the Saturday at 5 P.M. landed on Muskeget, and remained there until Sunday at 12 M., left there in the long boat for Cape Poge, weather very thick, were taken out through Muskeget by the tide, and were in their boat until Monday at 8 P.M. when they landed at Tomans Land, having been in their boat 32 hours, and without food 56 hours. The cause of her getting ashore was on account of her Captains mistake in taking the Steame, Massachusetts, on Saturday afternoon, for the Light Boat, stationed near Tuckernuck Shoal.

The Peruvian has cruised down the eastern coast of both islands, through Foveaux Straits, and up the west coast of this island. While on the west coast she rode out a hard north-east gale in Jackson's Bay, but lost an anchor. The fog suddenly cleared away, and revealed a rocky shore directly ahead. On the following day Capt. ☞ For account of the burning of ship William Thompson, of New Bedford, see news columns.

We understand the whole amount of insurance on ship Factor, of New Bedford, reported condemned at Tahiti, is $41,275, as follows:—$16,775 at the Mutual Marine, and $10,000 at the Commercial, New Bedford; $7,000 at the Warren Office, Boston; and $7,500 at the Sun Office, New York.

By an arrival at Baltimore, from Rio Janeiro, whale ship Joseph Maxwell of Fairhaven, and bark Yeoman of Plymouth, are reported at that port under seizure. Sept 12th, a whaler reptd the Ceres, is stated to have been condemned—possibly the Ceres of New London, but more probably the Sarah & Esther of Greenport, before reptd condemned at that port for violation of the revenue laws. The report of the Yeoman being at Rio Sept 12, is doubted, as letters fm Capt Clark, dated Aug 11, were received some time since, in which he stated that his vessel had been relieved, and that she would sail next day for Indian Ocean.

DISASTER TO A WHALESHIP. We are indebted to Henry Haven, Esq., New London, for the following information received at that place, via China, of partial damage by fire to the whaleship William Thompson, Capt. Ellis, of this port.

On Sunday, April 18, 1847, about 9 o'clock, P. M. off the Island of Kaui, about 60 miles N. from Honolulu, the hold of the ship became filled with smoke almost to suffocation of the crew, and after a prolonged and fruitless search to ascertain from whence it proceeded, during which one or two of the crew became overpowered, to fainting, from its effects, they finally fastened down the hatches, with the hope of somothering the fire, and put into the harbor of Wamea Kauai, on the following day. After persevering efforts three or four days in pouring water into the hold of the vessel they succeeded in extinguishing the fire, when it was discovered that the fire had been applied to a pile of rigging near the forecastle.—The fire had destroyed a quantity of sails, rigging &c. the deck beams were badly charred, and the deck nearly burned through, Capt. Ellis reports this as the third time the ship has been set fire since her departure from this port, Nov. 5, 1846. Lyman Lochman, of N. Y. who was discovered to be the incendiary, was arrested and imprisoned in the fort at that Island, from whence he subsequently effected his escape, but was recaptured.

N. B. Mercury.

Letters received at New London, state that ship Ceres, Harris, of that port, put into Rio Janeiro about first Sept. last, in distress, having suffered severely in a succession of heavy gales of wind, and was condemned. She had on board 100 bbls sp and 1000 do wh oil; the latter had been sold to net 34 a 36 cts; and the sperm would probably be shipped to the United States. The vessel would be sold as soon as the cargo was discharged. The Ceres was insured in New York. When she sailed on her present voyage she was esteemed a staunch, strong vessel,

Memoranda

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The following discoveries have recently been made in the vicinity of Nantucket Shoals, by the hydrographical party of the Coast Survey employed in that section under the command of Lieut. Com. Charles H. Davis, U. S. N.

1. A dangerous ridge near the New South Shoal, lying in a NNE and SSW direction, having on it four, five, and six fathoms, and deepening very rapidly outside to twenty, and twenty-five fathoms, and inside to thirteen fathoms, on which the sea breaks in bad weather.

The following bearings are taken from the centre of this ridge. Centre of New South Shoal, S 70 deg W (true,) or W by S (magnetic,) distance 4 miles. The middle of the old South Shoal, N 17 deg W (true) or N 4 W (magnetic,) distance six miles.

2. A shoal spot with sixteen feet of water on it, in the channel-way to the eastward of Bass Rip, which Sancoty Head bears N 84 1-2 deg W (true) or NNW 3-4 W (magnetic,) distance 4 1-4 miles; Great Point Light N 49 1-2 deg W (true,) or N (magnetic,) distance 10 3-4 miles.

3. A shoal having fourteen feet of water on it, to the southward and eastward of Great Point Light, and north of Bass Rip, from which Sancoty Head bears S 20 1-2 deg W (true,) or SSW 1-2 W (magnetic) distance 4 1-2 miles; and Great Point Light N 66 1-2 deg W (true,) or NW by W 1-4 W (magnetic,) distance 5 3-4 miles.

The above shoals were found where deep water has hitherto been supposed to exist. A sketch similar to the one issued from the office of the Coast Survey, to show the position of the New South Shoal, will be prepared and published as soon as possible.

The TRUE bearings are given in this notice to enable the navigator to transfer the places conveniently to his own chart.

A. D. BACHE,
Sup't U. S. Coast Survey.

Brig Spartan, Capt. Keene, from Philadelphia for Boston, loaded with Coal, grounded on the Great Point Rip, on Wednesday morning, and remained there until the same evening at high water, when she came off, after throwing overboard 50 or 60 tons Coal. She reml was tight and in good order, except the loss of main boom, and one or two other small Spars.

Three other vessels, unknown, grounded on the Rip same morning, but got off at high water.

Capt Lathrop, late of ship Young Eagle, of this port, before reported lost, left Talcahuana July 25, and reports that ship William C. Nye, of N. London, put into I. three days previous, with loss of rudder, having experienced a tremendous sea, without wind. Off that port, in which the rudder was carried away, — had 1400 bbls Oil. DISASTER TO ONE OF THE NEW YORK AND HAVRE PACKETS.

On Friday morning last, a ship was discovered, from Siasconset, aground on Pochick Rip. In the course of the forenoon, and towards high water, she floated off and drifted rapidly to the westward until about 1 P. M., when she was brought up by a single anchor, about five times her length from the shore, one and a half miles West of Tom Nevers Head, and one mile East of where the Earl of Eglenton was wrecked some 20 months since. A boat from the shore soon boarded the ship, and on her return it was ascertained that she was the Louis Philippe, Capt. Casttoff, which sailed from Havre Nov. 8th. for New York. Her rudder was broken or unhung, so as to render it entirely useless, and Capt. Casttoff sent word to the shore, that his ship was in a sinking condition, her pumps being choked, and that he wanted two steamboats to take her in tow. The steamer Massachusetts, was dispatched to the ship about 9½ A. M., which was as soon as it was known in town that she was on the Rip, but after proceeding as far as Tom Nevers Head without finding her, the weather being thick and the ship having drifted to the westward, as above stated, the boat returned. In the afternoon the steamer Telegraph was sent out, and arrived along-side the ship about 6½ P. M., when she was ordered to anchor and lie until called for. About this time the ship's pumps were put in working order, so that she could be kept free by pumping moderately most of the time. At five o'clock, Saturday morning, the steamer Massachusetts left the wharf for the ship, and arrived alongside of her at 9 A. M. The wind, which had been moderate from the East all Friday afternoon and evening, sprung up during the night, and on Saturday it blew quite fresh from the North, directly off shore, so that it was impracticable to take her in tow. The ship rode by one anchor during Saturday, both pumps barely keeping her free.

Capt. Barker, of steamer Telegraph, which left the ship Saturday at 11 A. M., and arrived here in the afternoon—but who had very little communication with her—informs us that she had 150 passengers, who preferred to remain on board the ship for the present. The Massachusetts would stay by her, to render any assistance needed.

Saturday Dec 18th. Wind N. Rain & Snow

Saturday Evening.

Since the above was written, Mr. [illegible] Folger has arrived in town from the ship, with instructions for the steamer Telegraph to return to her, as she leaks badly, and the Captain is anxious to get her under way as soon as practicable. Mr. Folger reports that the ship has a cargo valued at $200,000, and that she has 167 passengers, mostly emigrants, 35 of whom have gone on board the steamer Massachusetts. None have left and come ashore up to this time, of either passengers or crew.

Sunday.

At 4 o'clock, A. M, the steamer Telegraph left the wharf for the ship, the wind being at the time light from West South West. At about 9, A.M., the ship took her anchor, and the two steamers took her in tow; but the wind had hauled farther to the South and gradually increased, and was now blowing so strong as to make a very rough sea.—The boats, however, continued to make efforts to get the ship to windward, but after parting from her five times, they were obliged to leave her about ½ past 12, on account of the roughness of the sea, the wind having increased, since morning, to quite a gale from the South West. The ship anchored again about 1 o'clock P. M., off Nobadear Pond, about a mile and a half to the westward of where she started from in the morning, and about a mile from the shore. She has now two heavy anchors down, one weighing 3200 lbs and the other 1200 lbs, sufficient to enable her to ride in safety, until the wind and weather will permit her to be taken into some port. A rudder is being constructed, which will be sent out to-morrow, and by which it is supposed she can be steered well enough for her to get to New York. Her pumps keep her free.

We learn from Capt. Phinney, of the Massachusetts, that the ship struck first on Great Round Shoal, and drifted off, and on to Pochick Rip, where she was first seen from the island, Friday morning. She has 7 cabin and 160 steerage passengers; 5 of the former and about 30 of the latter, came in on the Massachusetts, to-day

Both boats are now at the wharf, and ready to go out again to-morrow morning, if the weather is good. The Steamboat Company have rendered, and will continue to render, every assistance in their power, and we presume that no effort will be spared to prevent the ship from coming ashore, and to enable her to reach New York in safety.—In addition to his own crew, Capt. Casttoff has taken on board about 20 seamen from this place. The distance from the wharf round to the ship, by water, is about 25 miles.

The following are the names of the cabin passengers:—

Mr. N. Becker, of Philadelphia.
Mrs. Becker, do.
Miss Weiller, Germany.
Mr. Henry Karston, Philadelphia.
Mr. Wm. E. Bartlett, Jr., Baltimore.
Mr. R. W. Benadick, New York.

Ship Louis Philippe.—In our last report of this ship, we left her at anchor on Sunday evening, at the south side of this Island. We stated that a rudder was being constructed, by which it was supposed she could be steered well enough for her to get into port. On Monday morning the two steamers left the wharf, with boats, new lines for towing, an anchor and chain, and the rudder which had been constructed under the direction of Capt. William B. Coffin. This rudder was found to answer the purpose, and it worked well. At about 10 A. M. the ship was taken in tow, and at half past ten the same evening she was anchored in Edgartown harbor. About 30 of the ship's passengers came to this port in the steamer Telegraph, on Tuesday morning, who together with those landed here on Sunday, make about 60 that have come from her to our shores.

We understand that the Louis Philippe will remain at Edgartown, until Capt. Casttoff can hear from New York.

DISASTER.

Schr. Walcott, Capt. E. F. Ryder, from Boston for New York, struck on the "Old Man," off this Island, on Tuesday evening last, and was soon found to be leaking badly, and was run ashore at Low Beach, during the night. The vessel is a fine new packet schooner, of 198 tons. The captain and crew are safe. She left Boston on Friday last, and went to sea in the snow storm on Sunday. A part of the cargo was thrown overboard, in the South Channel, to lighten the vessel, previous to coming ashore. Cargo—Bar and Sheet Iron, Hardware, Dry Goods, Wool in Bales, Goat Skins, Raisins, Figs, Almonds, Cocoa, &c., &c. At 4 P. M. on Wednesday, the pumps were put in operation, and she was pumped out and got off on Wednesday night at high water, after discharging about one-quarter of her cargo on the beach,—part of it in a damaged condition,—which was brought to town yesterday and stored.

The Schr was brought round in tow of Steamer Telegraph, Thursday and anchored off the Bar, but the same steamer afterwards took her in tow, in the evening, and proceeded with her to Edgartown, while she arrived with her same night. The Schooner's pumps easily kept her free.

The Packet ship Louis Philippe was taken upon the Balance Dock at New York, on the 7th inst, and examined. The only injury apparent is the entire loss of keel, and a portion of the sheathing torn off. She will be repaired immediately in order that she may be ready to take her regular day in the line, being the 24th inst. The underwriters and owners of the ship have compromised with the Nantucket Steamboat Company, for salvage for towing the ship when in a sinking condition, for $26,000. Capt. D. G. Patterson, the pilot, claims $4000, which has not been settled.

Whaleship Jane, Capt. Eddy, of Warren, R. I.—This vessel left here Oct 15, 1845, with 2900 bbls of oil, for the US. Nov. 18, she was spoken off the Society Islands. Since then up to Dec. 1846, nothing has been heard of her by her owners.—From Mr. Vida, of the firm of Vida & Von Pfister of this town, we learn that late in Dec. 1845, or Jan, 1846, he does not recollect which month, the Jane anchored below Point Vincente, near Talcahuana, for potatoes. The officer of the port ordered her to Talcahuana that he might secure his anchorage dues, &c. Capt. Eddy refused to go, and sailed immediately for the island of St. Mary's—farther down the coast—and anchored at high tide, close in. Mr. Vida boarded her to purchase oil, and at the captain's invitation staid all night. When the tide fell, the ship thumped heavily, unshipped her rudder, knocked in her round house and began to leak. Mr. Vida advised the captain to put into Talcahuana and ascertain damages. He refused to do this, saying that if the leak should prove bad, he could put into Chiloe. The next day he got under way and stood out to sea. Since then, nothing has been heard of the ship, and the probability is that she foundered.—[Polynesian, May 22d.

Honolulu, April 17.—The late gale caused several of the Maui fleet to drag their anchors. The Canada dragged afoul of the Edward, and did her boats and davits some damage. The South America, Soule, lost a boat's crew of fine green hands, who are supposed to have pulled out to sea during the evening, having gone ashore after the first officer. They were immediately missed, and three boats dispatched to cruise for them, but as no traces of them were discovered, it is supposed they perished. It was blowing hard at the time.

Discovery of a New Island.—Capt. Sullivan, of the Audax, has kindly favored us with the following valuable information:—On the last voyage from Hong Hong to Woosung, the Audax was forced by very heavy north-westerly gales to take a course to the eastward of the usual track. At 6 30 A. M. on the 7th February, an island was discovered not laid down in the charts on board, which appeared larger and higher than Patuhecock, the southern island of the Queshans. It was made in lat 28 50 north, and longitude by chronometer 158 20 east. A small islet or rock was seen from two to three miles northeast of it, with seventy fathoms all round. They lie between the Hoapin Su and Loochoo Islands.—Hong Kong Register, March 9.

Accounts from Vera Cruz to the 19th ult. say:—"Since the first of this month we have had a constant succession of most violent northers, in which a number of vessels have been lost; among these were the schrs Caroline, Elizabeth, Neptune and Howard,—They parted from their moorings in the harbor on the 16th, and were driven high and dry on the beach."

Upon ship Russell, of Dartmouth, before reported lost, there is insurance for $3000 at the Pacific Office, New Bedford, in addition to that reported in our last.

A letter fm ship Columbia, Fish, FH, repts her at Maui April 22d, with 550 bbls sp oil, for NW Coast.

EDGARTOWN, (Gazette Office) Jan. 10, 1848.—ANOTHER WRECK.—The schooner Lyon, of Dennis, Capt. Baker, fm Philadelphia 2d inst, for Boston, split her mainsail on Wednesday, 5th, when 50 miles South of Gay Head, and on Thursday morning a similar disaster occurred to her foresail; at this time she lost deck load and commenced leaking badly. On Saturday, 8th inst. at 3 PM, she struck on Skiff's Island Reef, to the South of the Vineyard; here she beat much and leaked badly, and it was found necessary to throw over anchors and coal, and finally, the sea being very high, to leave her. The L. had a cargo of coal, which was consigned to Holmes & Dodge, Boston, and is with the vessel wholly or partially insured—the captain not knowing which.

Inhuman Conduct of a British Officer towards American Whalemen in Distress.—On the 15th and 16th of March we encountered one of the severest gales of wind that has been experienced in the Pacific Ocean for some years. After the gale we stood in for the Navigator Islands, and in a few days fortunately arrived at the port of Apia, Upolo.—We found in this harbor H. B. M. ship Juno, 26 guns, commanded by Capt. Blake. On our arrival this gentleman, merely to gratify his own curiosity, made many enquiries respecting the perilous circumstances in which we had been placed and the extent of damage done to the several vessels, but although he had more than 200 men under his command, he offered not the slightest assistance to any of us. We presume it would be difficult to find in the whole of H. B. M. Navy another officer who would thus have conducted himself towards us in our distressed circumstances.—We cannot, however, feel greatly surprised at this want of common courtesy towards American citizens, when we find the British residents most deeply regretting that the Juno ever came to Samoa, the course pursued by her commander having made their position and that of the British Consul's much worse than it was before. Instead of redressing the grievances of his own countrymen, some of whom have suffered both in person and property, we learned that he had treated them with marked indifference, and did everything in his power to corrupt the morals of the natives and induce them to return to their former heathenish practices, condescending even to offer a reward to those in power if they would make the native females perform in his presence their former obscene dances. Of the missionaries he thought he could not express himself in terms sufficiently disrespectful, being himself perfectly ignorant of their character, and the nature of their work. We feel persuaded that the British Government, if acquainted with these facts, would in the highest degree deprecate such proceedings in any one of their officers.

Feb 29th, lat 27 N, lon 66 W, experienced a tremendous squall from the Eastward, which hove the ship on her beam ends, carrying away fore yard, fore topgallant mast, fore and main royal masts, blowed away mizen topsail, split fore and main topsails and topgallant sails, foresail, fore topmast staysail, jib and crotchet sail. The courses were in the brails, and topsail yards on the caps with the rigging all hauled up when the squall struck the ship, which did not last to exceed five minutes to do any damage, and had it continued ten or fifteen minutes longer it would have inevitably blowed all of the sails clear of the ship and caused much more damage to the spars. A ship's yawl, "schooner rigged," arrived at San Miguel, W Coast of America, a few ds prev to Feb. 12, having on board six men who represented themselves as the first officer and seamen of the ship "Adeia," wrecked on the Mexican coast near "Peterbuica," on her way to "Aguapulco;" that the captain would make the best of his way overland with all the cargo money for his especial benefit; and that he had given them the launch to make some port. Money had been raised through the exertions of an Am. gentleman to take them to Omoa, Honduras, and a letter from this gentleman, which was given to one of them, has been received at New York. A letter fm Capt Barker, late of ship Edward, of NB, dated Mazatlan, Mch 1, repts the total loss of ship Hope, Heath, Providence, in Magdalena Bay, California, a few mos previous. Capt Barker was on his return home, on account of continued ill health, and had left his ship in charge of Capt Heath, late of the Hope, who would proceed to NW Coast. The mate, second mate and cooper, of the Hope, had also gone on board the Edward, her original officers having been discharged. The letter repts in Magdalena Bay, no date, (probably Nov or Dec,) Magnolia, Simmons, NB, wanting 250 bbls to fill; Braganza, Devoll, do, had taken 150 bbls in the Bay. The Edward also took 100 bbls in the Bay. Capt Barker would take passage home in bark Whitten, to sail for New York in about a month, if his health would permit.

The Hope was valued at $20,000 and her outfit at $20,000. There is insurance in Boston to the amount of $30,000, equally divided between the Boston, Franklin, and Mercantile Marine Offices. The remaining $10,000 was probably done in Providence.

They came up from the Sandwich Islands, and are much pleased with our place, they consider it much cheaper, and in every respect better than the Islands. They think they can save 3 months of the most valuable time in the whaling season by coming here, as everything is much lower, and their bills can be negotiated at a reasonable rate. They give us hope of a large fleet. Please report them."

A letter from Capt. Riddell of brig Sterling, of New York, under date of 20th inst., reports having anchored the evening previous off Tybee light with the best Pilot aboard belonging to the place. The loss of the whale ship Hope of Providence, before reptd, occurred in Magdalena Bay, Lower California, Nov 26; officers and crew saved. An error in the longitude of the coast, as laid down in the charts, is assigned as the cause of the disaster. (see Notice to Mariners.)

SAGHARBOR, May 4.—Letters received from ship Citizen, Lansing, of this port, under date of Feb. 9, 1848, at Magdalena Bay, California, repts her with 2900 bbls oil on bd, 700 sp; Capt L. having purchased fm the cargo of the ship Hope, Heath, of Prov, previously wrecked on the shores of that Bay, about 1400 bbls oil, at 60 c per bbl. The Citizen took 4 whales in the Bay prev to the loss of the Hope; is wanting 1500 to fill; is to take another NW season.

The captain of the other ship (name not given in the letter shown us) in the Bay, at the time of the sale of the Hope's cargo, purchased with Capt Lansing the whole of the oil as it lay buried in the beach, many of the casks nearly hid in the sand, and all of them sunk deep by the wash of the breakers. About 800 bbls was taken to each ship by the two ship's companies acting together, through a heavy surf without serious accident, though represented to be both difficult and dangerous. Capt Lansing afterwards rafted about 600 bbls more and towed it 90 miles, not finding a safe anchorage within that distance.

Whaling ship Hudson, sold yesterday for $1200—Capt Henry Green was the purchaser.

The whale oil belonged to Mr. Hobson, supercargo of the Maria Helene, and was purchased of ships Olive Branch and Inez, of NBedford, 1200 bbls of the former and 500 of the latter.—The sperm oil and bone were on freight. She had in addition to that before reported, 47 bbls sp oil and 16,000 lbs bone from ship Sheffield, Cold Spring; 87 bolts canvas shipped by Mr. Vida, Honolulu, and 3 casks limps by Starkey, Janion & Co, do. There is insurance on the oil and bone shipped by the Saml Robertson, of Fairhaven, for $9000, equally divided between the Whaling and Pacific Offices, in NBedford.

A letter received by A. R. Nye, Esq., from A. Ten Eyck, Esq, dated Honolulu March 1, contains the following additional particulars. The Maria Helene went on shore about 3 o'clock on the morning of the 4th of January last, 15 days out from Honolulu.—Among the passengers were Miss Harriet Johnson, of Fairhaven, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, and Mr. Hobson, supercargo, which with the crew landed safely upon the Island. The passengers saved most of their baggage and bedding. The Bremen whaleship Mozart was wrecked upon the same Island only a month previous, and her crew had been taken off by the J E. Donnell, of New Bedford. Both vessels are complete wrecks and nothing of cargo saved. The Mozart's crew left 22 casks of water and some provisions—the Maria Helene saved 4 casks of water and a large quantity of provisions. Mr. Hobson writes that they can subsist upon what they have for many months.—Fish and turtle were found at the Island in abundance. A French man of war would sail from Oahu in a few days for Valparaiso, and would probably touch at the island and take them off. The ship's company including passengers, amounted to 30 persons, 24 of whom remained upon the Island, when the launch left, on the 9th Feb. for the Sandwich Islands. Mr. Hobson in his letter to Mr. Ten Eyck says—"The ship's and my loss amounts to about $35,000, say ship $10,000; Freights to the U. States, $7000, oil $8000; assorted merchandise, original cargo from Chili and purchased at Honolulu, $10,000. I fear little of the oil and bone on freight will have been insured, as I have letters from the shippers to their owners and agents, advising them of the shipment, which I was to have forwarded on my arrival at Valparaiso, by the way of the Isthmus."

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The hull of the sch A. Marshall, recently wrecked on the Handkerchief Shoal, has drifted, and is now in what is called the "Slue," between Pollock Rip and Monomy Point, and is a dangerous obstacle to coasting vessels that navigate that passage day or night.

Previous to the loss of the sch A. M. on the Handkerchief, two vessels had been ashore on that shoal in consequence of the buoy being in the wrong place.

It is desirable that those whose business it is to see to the placing of buoys on Nantucket Shoals, should attend to it immediately, for reasons obvious to all.—Barnstable Patriot.

LOWER CALIFORNIA.—From Marguerite Bay we learn that the whalers have met with poor success in taking oil, the whales are getting more shy than formerly. A boat's crew of seven men, having deserted from the ship Bowditch, (of Warren,) landed at a small town about 40 miles below the bay, where they were attacked and two of them killed. The remainder escaped, and continued their voyage in an open boat to San Jose. Finding an American officer in charge there, and fearing lest they should be apprehended, they returned some way up the coast, where it is supposed they landed. One of them was heard from through a Portuguese. The fate of the rest is unknown. A large fleet of whalers, numbering in all 29 vessels, have been in there the past season.

WHALESHIP TRITON RECOVERED FROM THE NATIVES.—The following interesting information is furnished in a letter to Messrs. J. A. Parker & Son, of New Bedford, from A. C. Heinekin, Esq. cated Papiete, one of the Society Islands, March 22, 1848.

"The ship Triton, Capt. Mills, (late Spencer,) of N Bedford, arrived here a few weeks since in distress. On the 8th and 9th of January, 1848, at the King's Mills Islands, Capt. Spencer went on shore to purchase the chains and anchors of the ship Columbia, wrecked there 18 months since, which were offered him by a Spaniard from one of the islands.—The weather being rough, Capt. Spencer resolved to stay on shore all night. The next morning the Spaniard came on board and told the Mate that Capt Spencer wante so e casks to bring off so e sa . The weather continued rough and they could n t land them. The Spaniard with 11 natives remaining on board. At 10 o'clock PM, in the 2d Mate's watch, the Spaniard managed to arm himself with two pistols from the cabin, and to arm the natives with cutting spades, &c. He then told the 2d Mate to go below, or he would be a dead man. The 2d Mate then went below and awoke the mate, Mr. Wells who rushed on deck with a sword, and in a struggle with the Spaniard he was knocked down with his own sword. He got up and went into the forecastle, but badly wounded. The 3d Mate killed the Spaniard and two natives, and sprung into the forecastle. The 2d Mate with some of the crew lowered a boat and left the ship. The natives now having possession of her, placed a native boy, one of the crew, at the wheel, and tried to get her aground; the tide and wind were against them, and they not knowing how to tack ship, the boy succeeded in working her off about 15 miles in 24 hours. The natives then left her, taking with them the chronometer, two boats and many other things. Mr. Mills then picked up the 2d mate and boat and came here with only 10 men able to work. He has shipped another crew for a cruise on the NW Coast, and will be ready for sea in a few days.

Extract of a letter from Capt Hussey, of bark J. E. Donnell, of N Bedford, received by Messrs. Swift & Allen, dated Upola, Navigator Islands, Jan 2, 1848:—"We arrived here last Thursday from Christmas Island, with the crew of the Bremen whale ship Mozart, Capt. F. G. Schelling, which vessel was wrecked upon that Island on the 7th Dec. 1847. With considerable difficulty and delay of ten days, we got them all on board, 35 souls, with some small part of their clothing.—There was nothing of any value saved from the wreck, except two chronometers, two whale boats and a few small things. The ship struck on the E end of the Island,—had on board 3300 bbls of oil and 29,000 lbs of bone, but there being so heavy a surf it was impossible to save any of the carvy go. In fact the current was so strong the bark could not hold on, and twenty of the crew which did not get off in the first boats, had to walk a distance of 30 miles to the lee side of the Island; where we anchored after having lost sight of the Island for one day.

After taking them on board, I made a straight course for these Islands. The American Consul, Mr. Williams, has now taken charge of them, and is preparing a vessel to take them to Sydney. I intend leaving here on the 4th for the Line, and be in the sea of Japan on the 1st of March. The delays and expense of bringing these men here, I should think would be borne by the Bremen government, or the owners of the Mozart.

The Scotland, of Nantucket, left here two days after our arrival, hailing 1400 sp, bound to the Southward.

The Board of Underwriters of New York have resolved to revive the practice of examining the conduct of the masters of vessels wrecked or meeting with serious disasters without extraordinary cause, occasioning loss to the members of the Board; and pending such examination and suspension no risks are to be taken on vessels in charge of such masters.

Pernambuco, June 11.—Ships touching at this port at this season of the year, should invariably anchor in the outer Roads, as the current generally sets very strong to the Northward. The accidents which have occurred to the Pacific, Æronaut, and Golconda, would have been avoided if the ships had been anchored, as there is no danger whatever in doing so.

The New Bedford Mercury publishes the following particulars of the loss of ship Hope, Tucker, of that port, (before reported wrecked at New Zealand,) contained in a letter from Mr. A. S. Curtis, late second officer of said ship, dated Bay of Islands, New Zealand, May 30, 1848.

"On the 16th April we stood in for the Bay of Islands with a strong NE wind, and raining. Rounded Cape Brett, and the wind increasing, sent in a boat for a pilot. Whil waiting for the boat the wind hauled from NE to NW, and commenced blowing heavily, with a very bad sea, so that the ship could not work off shore. Wind still increasing with thick and rainy weather, our sails split all to pieces, we found we were losing ground at each successive tack, and that the ship must go on shore seaboard, or stand in for a small opening we could see between the rocks. At 3 PM. we kept off for the opening, and in going through struck several times very heavily, there being a heavy surf running at the time. She drifted over and we brought her to in 4 fathoms water and let go both anchors. In about 30 minutes she filled with water. We had time to save some of our clothes, the chronometer and a few other things. She soon fell over on her beam ends. At daylight began to clear the wreck.—The English sloop of war Caliope sent 23 men to assist us in getting out the stores and oil. Cut away the foremast, maintopmast and mizzen mast, when she righted. Began to get out the casks and provisions and oil between decks on the evening of the 22d April. The U. S. Consul, Mr. Williams, arrived from Auckland, and proceeded to the wreck with Capt. Wilcox, and concluded to proceed to town and bring down the schr. Sir John Franklin and discharge the oil. On the 3d May we finished getting out the oil.—About 60 or 70 bbls were lost by staving casks in getting out. We then made an attempt to heave the ship out to hold a survey, but did not succeed. Mr. Williams left us on the 5th. We have got the oil and provisions rolled up on the beach, where we are living in tents made of the sails of the ship. Yesterday we discovered that about 60 feet of the main keel was gone. An attempt is now being made to raise the ship and float her to Matavas Bay, about 18 miles from where she now lies, with the intention of repairing her, which if found practicable will take three or four months. All that we can now do is to take care of the oil and other things on the beach."

A letter from bark Peri, of N B, repts having heard from ship Leonidas, Tatch, of FH, in Mch last, no lat &c. The Leonidas was in the hurricane of Mch 8th, in which the Roscoe and Alto of N B, sustained damage, (as before reported) and lost sails, one boat, and had boats and bulwarks stove.

The report of the condemnation of ship Fenelon, of Medford, is partially confirmed by Capt Winslow, late of ship Calpandra, of Providence. WRECK OF THE MOBILE. The Mercury, of Monday, publishes the following particulars of this sad disaster, furnished for that paper by Messrs. Manchester and Guinn, passengers in the Fairy, who arrived in New Bedford on Saturday evening:—

The Mobile sailed from New Bedford Sept. 7th, on a whaling voyage to the Pacific Ocean amply fitted for a three years' cruise. On the 14th, took a 30 bbl sperm whale. Sept. 23d, in lat. 34 N. lon. 54 W. experienced a heavy S. E. gale, and at 10 o'clock A.M. shipped a tremendous sea on the starboard bow, which instantly killed the man at the wheel, and carried away the mizen mast, head of bowsprit, foremast-head, and maintopmast, and swept the deck of try-works, round-house, boats, and every thing above the plankshear except the main and foremasts; the rudder was wrenched off, including a portion of the stern timbers, and leaving the vessel a complete wreck. In fifteen minutes after, the ship filled with water, and rolled over upon her side, her tops lying in the water. The crew endeavored to save themselves by clinging to the rigging, but during the next five minutes, three of their number were washed off and drowned. The gale continued a perfect hurricane, during the whole day, and the floating spars, wood, stoven boats, &c., were frequently driven against the wreck with great violence, and diminishing the number of the survivors. At about 4 o'clock P. M. Mr. Stewart, the mate, was washed off and drowned. Capt. Long, who had twice regained a hold upon the rigging from the violence of the sea, was washed off the third time at about sunset, and having sustained severe bruises from the stuff, sunk to rise no more. The survivors, twelve in number, remained upon the rigging through the night and four ensuing days, during which time they were entirely without nourishment, except that obtained from chewing bits of leather which they cut from the rigging. At the end of the fourth day, the vessel having partially righted, they succeeded in making a hole through the deck by means of a spike, and obtained a barrel of flour and a little water, upon which they subsisted until they were providentially relieved from their perilous condition on the 31st. In the meantime the survivors had become reduced by suffering and privation to a state of almost complete helplessness, and so entirely had every hope of relief been abandoned, that the approach of the Fairy was unobserved by them until her almost immediate proximity to the wreck. Capt. Cook humanely rendered every assistance in taking the survivors on board his vessel, and extended to them the utmost kindness and attention until their arrival at Provincetown, where he was also instrumental in furnishing them with comfortable clothing. The names of those who perished on board the Mobile, are, George B. Long, of Claremont, N. H., captain; Mr. Stewart, mate; Joseph Enos, boat steerer; and Thomas Cooner, William Godey, John Ray, George Wilcox, John Nichols, Charles Newcomb, George Clarkson, seamen. The wreck, when left, appeared to be rapidly breaking up.

The Mobile was a staunch vessel of 263 tons, owned by Mr. Edward C. Jones in New Bedford, and is insured as follows: At the Bedford Com'l. Ins. Office, $5,500; Mutual Marine, $7,500; Pacific, $5,000; Whaling, $4,200. Total, $22,200.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—LOSS OF SHIP MAINE OF FAIRHAVEN—THE GOLD REGION.—We have been politely furnished by A. R. Nye, Esq., with the following extract of a letter received by him from A. Ten Eyck, Esq., dated St. Francisco, September 1:—"The schooner Honolulu, arrived here from Columbia river Aug. 25th, and reports the loss of ship Maine, Netcher, of Fairhaven. In attempting to enter the river on the afternoon of the 23d or 24th Aug. she struck on what is called the Middle Sands of the Bay, where the English barque Vancouver was wrecked in May or June last. She dragged her anchors all night, the sea making a breach over her. In the morning the officers and crew left her in their boats and reached the shore in safety. The ship soon after went to pieces, and nothing was saved. She had 1400 bbls. of oil. There was no pilot on board—the pilot of the port was engaged in taking in an English brig, which the Maine attempted to follow.

A day or two ago the Flora, Capt. Potter, of New London, anchored in Whalemen's Harbor, on the opposite side of the Bay. Yesterday, the Captain fearing that he would lose all his men, weighed anchor, intending to go to sea. After getting under weigh, the crew finding the ship was headed out, refused duty, and the Captain was forced to return and anchor here. Last night nine of the crew gagged the watch, lowered one of the boats and rowed off. They have not been heard of since, and are now probably half way to the gold region. The Flora is 26 months out, with only 750 bbls of oil. Every vessel that comes in here now is sure to lose her crew, and this state of things must continue until the squadron arrives, when, if the men-o'-war-men do not run off too, merchantmen may retain their crews.

The whale ship Euphrates, of New Bedford, left here a few weeks since, for the United States, to touch on the coast of Chili to recruit. The Minerva, Capt. Perry, of New Bedford, has abandoned the whaling business, and is now on her way hence to Valparaiso for a cargo of merchandize. Although two large ships, four barques and eight or ten brigs and schooners have arrived here since my return from the mineral country about four weeks since, with large cargoes of merchandize, their entire invoices have been sold. Vessels are daily arriving from the Islands and ports upon the coast, laden with goods and passengers, the latter destined for the gold-washings.

The volunteer regiment of U. S. soldiers have been mustered out of service, and have mostly gone gold hunting. Much sickness prevails among the gold-diggers; many have left the ground sick, and many more have discontinued their labors for the present, and gone into the more healthy portions of the country, intending to return after the sickly season has passed. From the best information I can obtain there are from two to three thousand persons at work at the gold-washings, with the same success as heretofore. The rainy season will commence by the first of December, and those engaged in digging gold will have to remain where that month finds them till along in March, as it will be impossible for them to get down into the settlements, on account of the peculiarities of the soil and country. The whole country, I am credibly informed, in the valleys and on the plains west of the California mountains and west of the gold region, is almost entirely overflowed with water during the winter months, so that it is with the greatest difficulty that access can be had to and from the settlements. The gold diggers and those intending to become such are making their preparations accordingly, by providing themselves with a four or five months' outfit. By the first of October the number of persons at the gold-washings will not fall short of four thousand."—New Bedford Mercury, 30th.

Brig W. S. Sugan, Kelley. from Boston bound to New York, in ballast, in tow of Steamer Massachusetts. The W.S.S. anchored in the Sound yesterday, about 10 miles out. By 4 P.M. the wind which had been blowing heavy all day, from N.W. had increased so much, and ice chain having parted, that it was found necessary to cut away her foremast, and in falling this carried away the mainmast with it, thus leaving the Brig dismasted. She rode by the chain all night, much burried up with ice, until towards noon this day, when she parted her second chain and put away for this port. She grounded between the two bars about 10 Oclock, when she was boarded by a boat from the Steamer Massachusetts, which went out to her assistance, and soon afterwards by two other boats from the shore. At about 4 P.M. she floated and was towed to the wharf by the Steamer.

Capt Kelley reports that a ship at anchor near him, cut away her masts about the same time that he cut away the Brigs, but he could not see her this morning.

California is a splendid country, and the port of San Francisco will be an excellent place for the whale ships to call at for supplies of all kinds, every thing in the provision line being now very cheap."

Capt Taber writes his agent that—"While at Tombez in Aug, Samuel Eldridge, one of the boatsteerers, cut his left arm badly, in consequence of which we proceeded to Paita for medical aid, and left him there on the last of Aug. He died three days after, I understand, with lock jaw. We were now making the best of our way for the Off Shore Ground, when Nicholas Mayhew, another of the boatsteerers, was taken down with small pox, of which disease he died on the 9th of Sept. off the Gallipagos Islands. We then smoked and washed the ship and cruised about a week in sight of the islands, when the disease not again making its appearance, started for Off Shore, and got in lon 97, when another man, a native of Guam, was taken down. In two or three days after, Mr. Thorn, the 3d mate, and a Kanaka were taken sick with small pox, when I put away for Paita. On the 29th Sept, John Rotuma died. In about nine days after the death of Rotuma, John Friday, Kanaka, a boatsteerer, was taken down, and died at the quarantine Hospital, Paita, on the 20th Oct; making four of our number lost by death in about six weeks, and three of them boatsteerers. Mr. Thorn and the native of Guam are recovered, and are now well. Since the disease appeared on board, the whole ships' company have been more or less affected, and at one time eight of the crew were off duty. The five who have been sick with small pox were the only ones on board who had not been vaccinated for that disease. I intend to sail to-morrow for the Off Shore Ground."

The reported loss of whale ship David Paddack, of Nantucket, in August last, with a full cargo, is distrusted by some, and with reason. It is stated that she sank which was no possible with a full cargo of oil, partly sperm on board; although it is true that sailors sometimes speak of a vessel as sinking when she becomes water-logged. The crew are said to have saved themselves in their boats, and landed on the coast of Japan, whence they were taken by an Am whaler. In the meantime the Lagoda of New Bedford was spoken Sept. 5, in Sea of Ochotsk, and reported that fifteen of her men had deserted with three boats, and were supposed to have landed on the coast of Japan. It is not improbable that these men, finding themselves upon an inhospitable shore, made their escape to the first whaler that hove in sight and fabricated the reported loss to excite sympathy.—Boston Daily Adv.

Capt. Smith, of ship Niphon, of Nantucket, the loss of which vessel was reported in our last, arrived in this town last evening. He furnishes the following particulars of this disaster. The Niphon sailed from Honolulu Aug 6th, for home, in charge of her first officer, leaving her original captain, Gardner, at Honolulu, sick. On the 30th Dec, in lat 36 30 N, lon 72 30 W, experienced a tremendous gale which raged with great violence for 4 hours, and in which the ship sprung a leak of 1800 strokes per hour, requiring one pump to be kept continually at work. On the 3d of Jan, in lat 36, lon 71 56, another gale came on and increased to a hurricane, with sudden and frequent changes, which raised a tremendous cross sea, and strained the ship very much, so that the leak increased rapidly, requiring both pumps to keep her free. When the gale abated, the 9th, only 8 men were left of the crew able to perform duty, (several being sick with scurvy) and these were fast giving out from continued exertion at the pumps. As soon as the weather would permit, sail was made and the ship headed to the Northward, with a fair wind, which took us to lat 37, lon 70 50, when on the 12th, we experienced another hurricane, in which the leak increased so as to render it impossible to free the ship, there being only 6 men, including officers, then able to do duty. On the morning of the 13th, it still blowing heavy, a sail was discovered to leeward, lying to under close-reefed maintopsail, which proved to be the ship Herculean, of Kingston, Capt Chase, from New Orleans for Boston, who kindly consented to lay by us until the weather moderated sufficiently to allow us to board her in our boats. At 4 P. M. the water had gained upon us so that it was determined to abandon the ship, and all succeeded in getting on board the Herculean, with much difficulty, the gale being still very severe. The Herculean lay by the sinking ship during the night, and in the morning, the gale having abated, an attempt was made to board her to get out provisions and water, but she was found to have filled to the upper deck, and nothing was saved. The Niphon had 800 bbls sperm oil. John Manning, carpenter, was washed overboard, Dec 26, and lost. Three days after being taken off, Manuel Merches, seaman, died of scurvy. Capt Smith desires to express his gratitude to Capt Chase, of the Herculean, for his promptness in responding to his call for assistance, and for the kind and generous treatment extended to himself, officers and crew, while on board his ship. Before the N. was left, she was set on fire. The ship seen on fire, by the Chicora, at Boston 14th, (as reported in our last,) and supposed to be cotton loaded, was no doubt the Niphon.

The Niphon reports—June 10, lat 30 N, lon 170 E, ships Japan, Riddell, Nant, 800 sp, (reported in March, by letter, 900 sp) to cruise for sp till 20th, and then bound to Sachaline Sea right whaling; June 13th, lat 30 49, lon 16 8 E, Milton, Smith, N B, 400 sp (including 200 bbls on deck)—had seen whales 11 times the last month; 16th, lat 31 05, lon 171 54, Howard, Bunker, Nant, 1000 sp. (who reported June 15, Wm Rotch, Kempton, F H, 150 sp; Narragansett, Rogers, Nant, 900 sp) Spoke Nov 26, lat 16 45 S, lon 29 45 W, bark Lucia Maria, Brown, of and from Salem for Bombay.

Mr. L. Daggett, Vineyard Pilot, who was blown off the Coast in a brig on the passage from Holmes Hole to Boston, and arrived yesterday, reports seeing 14th inst, 75 miles SE. of Block Island, ship Euphrates, Edwards, of NBedford, blowing a gale from NW, at the time. The Euphrates sailed from Talcahuano Nov. 11, and if the above report be correct made the passage to Block Island in the remarkably short time of 64 days. The report is undoubtedly incorrect.

Among the last acts of Congress was one for the continuance of the above named light. The Execution Rock Light will be put in operation in a few weeks, and will be properly designated from the other, when with both Lights, the navigation will be greatly improved.—[N. Y. Express.

At Honolulu Dec 1st, ship Lagoda, Finch, N. Bedford, refitting, for Japan Sea. The report of the loss of the L. is still discredited in New Bedford. The information of her loss was received at Hong Kong about the last of January, from the Dutch government at Batavia, who stated that the L. was lost at the port of Decima, in Japan, and that the captain and 1st officer were lost in landing, but the remainder of the ship's crew were saved, and were in confinement among the Japanese. The U. S. ship Preble, Capt. Glynn, would proceed immediately to Decima, to demand the release of the men; and it was supposed, from the information given by the vessel reporting the loss of this ship, that they would be delivered up without any trouble. This report may be correct; but if the information be certain that the L. was at Honolulu Dec. 1, a very short time is allowed for the occurrence of the wreck, the receipt of the news at Batavia, and its transmission to Hong Kong.

FROM NEW SOUTH WALES.

Loss of a Whale Ship at the Fegee Islands, and supposed Loss of Lives.—A letter received here yesterday from Sydney, N. S. Wales, dated Feb. 5, 1849, contains an extract from a Sydney newspaper:—

"The William has arrived here from the Fegee Islands. She reports the loss of the schooner Collcastle, of Sydney, at an island in lat 18 10 S., lon 178 30 E., about the middle of September last, by striking on a reef during a heavy gale at night. There were five persons on board, and they immediately made for the boat, but from a heavy sea running it was instantly swamped. Capt. Ellis, formerly of the American whaler Kingston, Mr. Johnson, and another, were drowned. The other two succeeded in gaining the shore.

The following information respecting the loss of another vessel, was communicated to Capt Nagel, of the William, by Capt. Allen of the sch Albion:—On the 3d of Jan. 1849, he was on shore at the island of Ongee, (the south eastern island of the Fejee group,) which is in lat. 19 48, lon 178 30 E. On the beach were seven casks of bread, one cask of flour, and five casks of iron hoops; also the mizen mast of a ship, topmast, yards, pieces of a round house, and the top of a binnacle, of common deal, painted. The casks were branded, "Folger, maker." Portions of a boat, with the name 'United States' branded on a board, were also found, the planks were painted a dark lead color. These things having been washed on shore during the 2d and 3d of Jan, it was supposed that a vessel had struck on a reef about four miles distant from the island during the night of the 29th Dec., and that it was the whaling ship United States, of Nantucket. All hands, it was feared, had perished.—N. B Mercury.

M. a dense bank gathered in the west which came up rapidly, out of which issued a most violent hurricane and balls of fire, one of which struck the cutting pendants at the mainmast head and fell in fragments to the deck, setting fire to the pendants, mast head and eyes of rigging; cut away the pendants and extinguished the flames as soon as possible. It being dangerous to run any longer, the ship was brought to the wind under bare poles, head to southward; was constantly shipping large quantities of water, scuttled the bulwarks in order to relieve the decks; broke main rail, stove galley, lost part of bulwarks, lost two boats and stove all the others badly; during the hurricane, weather perfectly clear; at 5 P. From Tahiti—Accident at Sea.—A correspondent at Tahiti has communicated the fact of a collision at sea, sustained by an American whaler a few miles north of the island of Tongataboo. All hands (excepting two children, who were, according to the report, in the cabin asleep, and perished,) were saved, although they had but just time to let the boat down, ere the vessel foundered. The object struck was afloat, for it did not stop the headway of the ship. The crew landed at Tonga. We regret not being in possession of the vessel's name.

Gentlemen—I have the pleasure of sending you the enclosed account of a very important danger on the coast of Patagonia, that has been struck on by a British merchant ship, accompanied by a chart shewing its position in the offing of Spring Bay. Sir Francis Beaufort, by whose directions I do so, trusts that the information will be acceptable to you.

Your Ob't Servant,

A. R. BEHER, Commandant, R. N.

Messrs E & G Blunt, New York.

The above danger is in latitude 48 07 South, longitude 65 36 West, and in the way of vessels bound around Cape Horn, who hug the land in that vicinity.

An Am whale ship deeply laden is stated to have passed close round the E end of St. George, Bermuda, about 10 A M, 23d ult, and but for the buoy lately put on "Mill's Breaker" she would have run ashore. After the buoy was discovered, she had just time to clear the shoal.

☞ Extract from a letter received in this town, from Capt Arthur of ship Zenas Coffin of this port:

"On the 11th of March, 1849, lat 33 10 S, lon 47 00 W, picked up the bowsprit of a ship that had been lately burnt at sea, with chain bobstays and bowsprit shrouds attached; the crossbars in the bowsprit shrouds were branded "Tyrack 1840", otherwise there was no mark by which we could discover anything about her. The iron work was all nearly new, and the spar had not been in the water a long time. All the cleats on it were of teak wood, and the gammoning lashing was a small chain, 100 feet in length. The vessel most probably was European; though the Cassandra of Providence was burned in this neighborhood about a year ago."

Not long after leaving the islands, during the night time, she struck on a reef, not laid down on the charts, about 50 miles from an uninhabited island near the equator. Officers and crew all saved—ship and cargo a total loss. The Captain (and it is hoped, the crew also) reached the island of Tahiti, where he made a formal protest of the loss of his vessel before the Consul, obtained his documents, and with his letters to H. Cooper Esq., agent of the Gem, sent them home, and left himself for California.—Capt. Worth was at San Francisco last June, bound to the gold mines—had declined the offer of $500 per month, to take charge of the Huntress, bound for the Columbia River. The Gem was insured for $18,000.

SIDNEY, N. S. W., March 17—On the 7th inst, a seizure of 2000 bbls sp oil was made at Mosman's Bay, by Messrs. Gibbs & Garling, the same having been landed from the American ship Scotland, of Nantucket, without an entry being passed or a bond signed by the captain. It appears, however, that there was no intention to smuggle in the case, the oil having been landed for the purpose of heaving the ship down to repair her copper. It will, therefore, in all probability, be given up again, but a small fine imposed on the captain for not having complied with the customs regulations.—[Sydney Shipping Gazette.]

It appeared about 40 feet high, and four miles in length, very barren, and of a dark brown color. To lighten the ship and bring her to the wind, Capt F cut away jib-boom, fore and main top-gallant masts, and fore topmast, and paid out 75 fathoms of chain. Capt F then bore away for Montevideo, to repair, and arrived June 19th in the river. On the 13th, 10 miles from Montevideo and 3 miles off Buceo, the bark struck on a reef of rocks not laid down on any chart. With the assistance of Government launches, and a boat's crew from the U S steamer St. Louis, by discharging cargo, &c, the bark was got off, after being ashore 12 hours. She will be hove down to ascertain damage. Four ships have been a total loss on the above reef within a year. The W H S is the second that has ever been got off. Ship Romulus, of Sag Harbor, before reported at Honolulu, May 12, was abandoned previous to June 8, on which day Capt Cartwright left as passenger in bark Mary, which arrived at San Francisco July 4. We do not find any statement of the occasion of her abandonment; but the vessel remained in charge of the U S Consul.

Steamers Unicorn and Senator had not arrived at Panama Aug 26, nor was there any intelligence of either at Valparaiso or Callao when the English steamer left. There is something wrong about the former; she must have been disabled rounding the Cape, or in the Straits of Magellan.

The accident occurred on the 23d of June, in lat 3 N, lon 104 W. The ship cruised in the vicinity for several days without seeing any trace of the boat or crew. Mr. Crowell would complete his crew and proceed on the voyage.

A letter from Capt Cushman, of bark Sappho, of New Bedford, reports her at Paita July 22d, with 250 bbls sp oil, 12 mos out,—had seen whales but four times since leaving home. Reports at Tombez July 16th, bark Platina, Gifford, Westport, 400 sp.

The Pacific had taken 140 bbls sp oil, which was sold at Callao at 109c per gallon. [The P, is reported to have have sailed fm Callao July 21, for San Francisco, which is undoubtedly incorrect.]

The spars appeared to be all spruce or pine and painted white. Bends black with white streak and black ports. Her stern appeared to be out. Cut into her bottom and found it to be oak plank, and chenamed. I supposed her to be an Am ship or bark, that she capsized in the gale of the 17th of Mch, and all on board perished. [Probably the vessel before reported fallen in with and supposed to be the Emigrant of New Bedford.]

Memoranda.

A letter from Capt. Pell, of ship Octavia, of NB, dated at Singapore Aug 24, reports his arrival at that port in distress, as before stated. Capt P. gives the following account of the gale in which he was dismasted. He says:—On the 30 n March we encountered one of the most severe hurricanes on record. It commenced with strong breezes from the NW, with thick rainy weather. At 2 P. M. saw Hummock Island bearing N, distant 5 miles. At 2 30 P M, blowing heavy, took in all sail except a close reefed main topsail, and secured the boats. At 3 30 PM the gale had increased to a hurricane, the main topsail was blown out of the rope; at the same time the three larboard boats were swept from the davits. At 4 PM, blowing dreadfully, the sea running in pyramids, the deck full of water, and the ship nearly on her beam ends, and upon the point of foundering, I had the foremast cut away, when eased her some; stove in the bulwarks and cleared the deck of some of the water. At 4 30 PM the wind shifted suddenly around to the SSE, in whirlwinds, and blowed with great violence, the ship all under water. At this time the main and mizen masts went by the board, which was the means of saving the wreck and our lives—there is no question as regards the loss of the ship if the masts had held on twenty minutes longer. At 6 PM, more moderate, but still blowing very heavy, and the ship making a dead drift on to Hummock Island, not more than 4 miles off, and not being able to see clear of the jib-boom end. At 7 PM let go the larboard anchor with 70 fathoms chain, to bring her up in case she drifted into shoal water. At 11 PM, more moderate, with a heavy sea. At 8 AM saw Hummock Island bearing SW, distant 12 miles. On the 31st March we got all sail upon the wreck possible, having but 2 spars on board, and made the best of our way to the Island of Salibaboo. On the 6th April anchored in Ledron harbor, at the Island of Salibaboo, where we found the schr Sophia, Baldwin, of Nantucket, with 200 bbls sp oil. Capt B. rendered me all the assistance in his power. From the 7th April to the 13th, we were employed in cutting spars for temporary masts and yards, in order to get to some place where I could refit the ship. May 15th sailed for Menado to get some native rope, not having sufficient to secure the masts and yards. On the 28th May anchored at Menado, obtained what rigging we wanted, and some refreshments, and sailed June 2d for Singapore, where we arrived July 26th, after a long and tedious passage. Our loss in the hurricane was three masts, yards, spars and everything attached, a full suit of sails, three boats, and full set of craft, davits, cranes, cook house, round house, jib and fly jib booms, spare spars off deck, rudder head sprung, pumps split, seams much opened in decks and upper works, &c. A survey was called on the 27th July, which ordered the ship to be fitted with new masts, spars and sails, caulked, the old copper taken off (being much damaged by the spars) and newly coppered, and everything to be put in good order that had been damaged by the hurricane. The Octavia had 1400 bbls sp oil, 1000 of which would be shipped to London.

A letter from Capt M'Cleave, of ship Richard Mitchell, of this port, repts her at Bay of Islands, Apl 5th, with 130 bbls sp oil, bound to Japan.

DISASTERS.

A large ship struck on a Shoal off Siasconset, on Sunday forenoon about 10 o'clock, and remained there one hour; she then got off and drifted to the leeward, and appeared to be without a rudder. The wind was blowing strong from the North East, at the time.—She has not been seen since.

Brig Leolah, of Newcastle, Me., Capt Morton, from Philadelphia for Boston, loaded with coal, struck on the Round Shoal, on Saturday afternoon last and immediately bilged. The crew left her in their boat, about four o'clock, and landed at Great Point at 7 P. M. The wind was blowing very strong from North East, and it is presumed that she went to pieces the same night. The crew saved nothing but a boat, which was sold yesterday, at auction, for $20. The vessel was partially insured.

The vessel seen bottom up, as mentioned in the report of the Canton Packet, at N Bedford 12th, was fallen in with by the Lexington, Saunders, of Providence. From the minute description given by Capt. Saunders, she is readily identified by the owners as being the bark Emigrant, of N Bedford. She was spoken a short time previous to the gale of the 17th March, and is believed to have had no oil.—Nothing is known of the fate of the crew, but there is a faint hope that they may have reached one of the Curtis Islands, (about 100 miles distant from the wreck,) in their boats. We learn the ship is fully insured in New Bedford.

Mr. David Caswell, late 1st mate of ship Heroine, of Fairhaven, arrived in town yesterday, 33 days from Payta, via Panama, and repts the following:—At Payta, Sept 10, ship President, Marshall, Nant, 1100 sp; brig Kirkwood, Alley, do, 400 sp; ship Three Brothers, Mitchell, do, 1100 sp 300 wh. At Gallipagos Islands, in July, ship Caroline, Swain, Nant, 600 sp. Mr. Charles Russell 3 mate of brig Kirkwood, fell from aloft and was killed. DISASTER.

Bark Cornwallis, Capt. Newman, from New York bound to Sydney, Cape Breton, came ashore near the head of Long Pond, at the Southwest side of this Island, on Monday evening, at 7 o'clock. She had on board 550 bundles of Hay, some Flour, and other small articles. The wind blew very heavy from the Southwest, and the vessel drove up upon the beach very much during the night, enabling the crew and others to pass to and from her yesterday, without being wet. The bark has been stripped, and men commenced discharging her cargo yesterday afternoon. If the weather should continue to be good, she may be got off. Her situation, however, is a very exposed one, and a strong westerly wind would soon break her up. She is about 290 tons burthen, and only seventeen months old. We understand that the vessel is insured.

The most of her cargo has been discharged and sold, and by advice of a survey the bark has been stripped, and has nothing now standing but her lower masts and rigging. Should the weather continue as favorable as it has been during the past week, she may yet be got off. She is insured in New York for about $9000.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The floating light Gen. Taylor, to be stationed on Pollock Rip, will leave for her place of destination the first fair wind. She is a new boat, of about 140 tons (too small for an outside station). She will endeavor to show a red light; as to it being a clear and brilliant one, as it should be, is entirely out of the question. It was intended that the glass should be stained, but instead of that, it is simply painted red. The glass is double, and so obscure, that the hand being placed on one side of it cannot be perceived on the other. Since she has been in Edgartown, the light has been tried, and the above is a correct idea of what may be expected. It certainly seems necessary that this statement should be made public.—Masters of vessels passing that station need give themselves no trouble to look for the lights until they are within three miles of them.

Missing Buoys.—The Buoys formerly on Hawes's and Mutton Shoals are missing.

Memoranda.

Sld from Fairhaven 13th, ship Columbus, Crowell, Pacific Ocean.

The following letter from Mr. E. F. Nye, mate of ship Geo & Susan of N Bedford, to her owners, who with a boat's crew lost sight of the ship while in pursuit of whales, has been politely furnished for publication. It is dated—

TAHITI, July 21.—Gentlemen: I arrived here on the 17th, from Newkaheva, in the French steamer Cocyet, with 5 others of the Geo & Susan's crew.—While in pursuit of sperm whales on the 10th of June, in the lat of 5 S, lon 115 30 W, I unfortunately lost sight of ship and the other boats, and after a useless attempt to find the ship I concluded that the only chance of saving our lives was to endeavor to reach the Marquesas Islands. We had but 5 cakes of bread and 1 1-2 gallons of water, for 6 of us when we started. On the night of the 15th we caught a porpoise, and on the 16th about 5 quarts of water from a rain squall. On the afternoon of the 22d we were fortunate enough to land on Roberts' Island, the westernmost island in the Marquesas group, and lying in lat 8 S, lon 139 30 W. Four of the boat's crew were very weak and exhausted. The natives took possession of the boat and craft, but supplied us with a share of their food, which was small, and consisted of cocoa nuts and fish. There were no potatoes, hogs or bread fruit on Roberts' Island. After being there 9 days, the French sch Sultine, Capt. Mareavault, came there, and I got him to release the boat and take us to Newkaheva. We arrived there on the 8th of July, and received every kindness and attention that we needed. The Governor and a number of gentlemen there gave the men some clothing and a donation of $24 in money. I obtained some clothing of Capt. Gardner and officers of ship Frances of N Bedford. The boat I sold for $80, which the Consul has in his hands. Capt. Wright expected to come here when the season was up and recruit the ship; as he has lost the boat and crew he may alter his mind and go back to the Coast, if not he will come here. I shall wait awhile for the ship, how long I do not know—it will depend upon circumstances. I am &c. EBENEZER F. NYE.

Crosby, Esq., from Capt Bailey, of ship Washington, of this port, dated at Oahu, Sept 16th, says: I have shipped home my oil by the Romulus, of Sagharbor, and shall finish my business in about two weeks and leave myself for home. Mr. Bunker goes mate of the Romulus; Mr. Griggson, mate of the Mary, of Boston; Mr. Worth, mate of the Mary & Adeline, of New York, and the rest of the crew have gone to California.

A letter from Capt Armington, of ship Corinthian, of N B, reports her at Paita Oct 26, with 900 bbls sp 80 do blackfish oil—had seen whales but twice in the last cruise. Capt A. had discharged his mate and second mate. He writes that the California fever rages to a great extent the whole length of the coast, which renders it very difficult for ships to retain their crews or get others.

LOSS OF SHIP PLOUGHBOY, OF NEW BEDFORD.—Letters recd by the Crescent City, from Guayaquil, report the loss on the 12th Nov last, of ship Ploughboy, Phelon, of N Bedford, on Peava Shoal, about 15 miles to the leeward of Tombez.—The mate had arrived at Guayaquil, and chartered a brig, which left on the 18th for the wreck. The oil, provisions, rigging, &c., would be saved, but it was supposed the hull would be a total loss. The P. sailed from N Bedford June 16, 1848, and when lost had 200 bbls oil. She was valued, with outfits, at $38,000, and is insured at offices in N Bedford for $31,000.

Since the above a letter has been received from the U. S. Consul at Guayaquil to the agent of the Ploughboy in N Bedford, which states that the mate had arrived there with the ship's papers, and that a brig of 250 tons had been despatched to save crew, cargo, and vessel, if possible, which latter was considered doubtful. Lighters were alongside the ship on the 16th and 17th, getting out cargo.

LOSS OF SHIP SARAH FRANCES, OF FAIRHAVEN. A letter from Capt Wood, of the Sarah Frances of Fairhaven, dated Tahiti Sept 1, states that he had just arrived at that island in a small vessel from the island of Roratonga, where his ship had been wrecked. Most of the property (including outfits, provisions, &c.) had been saved in a damaged state, probably to the amount of about $8,000. About $3,000 worth of articles saved from the wreck was brought from Tahiti in the vessel in which Capt W. came passenger, and the remainder would be brought thither, as it would fetch little or nothing at Roratonga. Capt W. would charter a large English bark then lying at an adjacent island, or several smaller ones, and proceed immediately to the wreck. No mention is made of the crew, and they are supposed to be all safe. We understand the Sarah Frances is fully insured at offices in New Bedford.

Capt Green, of the Alert, says, ships visiting the Sea of Anidar, will find the weather milder than in 50 or even 45°. Whales will there be plenty for two or three seasons. Ships whaling in the vicinity of St. Lawrence Island and Tschukutskoi Noss, should the weather be thick, will be set far into the Straits, unless on their guard. This happened to the Alert and we found it difficult to work out where the whales were. There is undoubtedly a plenty of whales within the Straits, but I had no occasion to go through for them, as I found plenty in the Sea of Anidar. They were plenty when I left. Species the same as in the Ochotsk Sea, yielding 150 barrels each.

A letter from Capt Adams, late of ship Ceres, of New Bedford, (before reported wrecked) dated Manilla Sept 13, gives the following particulars of the loss of that vessel. The Ceres sailed from Sydney June 12th, for the Rosemary Islands and home, via the East Cape, having on board 1900 bbls wh and 300 do sp oil—"On the 23d June, at 1 o'clock at night, we struck a reef, in lat 14 04 S, lon 147 10 E, not laid down on any chart. It had been seen before, and reported to be in lon 146 20, which must be 30 or 40 miles too far to the west, as my lon was 147 30 at 5 PM, and lat 14 13, and I am confident it was not more than 15 or 20 miles out at most. As I knew where the reef was reported to be, I steered NW by W per compass, and ordered a good lookout, stating that we were to pass a reef. The night was very clear and pleasant, with a 4 knot breeze right aft, and giving us a chance to luff either way, and the accident can only be attributed to a bad lookout. The reef was heard before it was seen, and before the ship could be brought to the wind we were upon it. We then furled the sails and got out a boat to try the soundings—found it very steep, deepening to 30 fathoms at about 2 ships' length, and then no soundings. We then got out two kedges to hold her while we got out the bow anchor. In the meantime the ship swung hard on the reef, the stern thumping heavily, knocking off the rudder, which stove in some stern plank above water. At this time our fast parted from the larger kedge, and we drove further on the reef. We got 3 boats clear of the ship as the masts and spars threatened to fall—sounded the pumps and found 7 feet of water in the hold. The attempt to get the bow anchor out was abandoned, owing to the heavy breaking of the sea, and the probability that the ship could not be kept afloat if got off. We now prepared some things to take in the boats, and on sounding the pumps again in about 3-4 of an hour, found the water had gained seven inches. As we lay upon the weather side of this reef there seemed but one chance for us, and that was our boats. We had but 4, and 28 men to carry. We took in what bread and water we could, with a few other things, and about 8 A. M. left the ship for Booby Island, 600 miles distant, where we all landed, after being in the boats 13 days. After remaining upon the Island (a barren rock at the west of Torris Straits) 11 days, we were taken off on the 27th July, by the ship Cadet, of London, Capt Pratt, bound to Manilla, where she arrived on the 23d August. I shall come home in the Siam, of Salem, for Boston Sept. 25th, Capt Williams having generously offered me a passage. The 1st and 3d mates of the Ceres will also come home in the Siam."

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

NEW LIGHT HOUSE.

On and after the 1st day of February, 1850, there will be shown from Sankaty Head, on the S. E. part of the Island of NANTUCKET, a new Light, bearing South by West twenty three miles from the Light Vessel on Pollock Rip, and South by East nine miles from the fixed White Light on the extremity of Great Point, Nantucket.

The NEW LIGHT will be a FIXED WHITE LIGHT WITH BRILLIANT WHITE FLASHES: two successive flashes being given at intervals of one and a half minute, then the third flash at an interval of three minutes, followed by two successive flashes at intervals of one and a half minute, then a third flash at an interval of three minutes as before, and so on for the time that the Light is visible. The FIXED Light will not be visible farther than 12 or 15 miles, beyond which the flashes only will be seen

The Light is projected by a revolving Lenticular Apparatus of the 2d order.

The centre of the Light will be 150 feet above the level of the sea, and the FLASHES will be visible as far as this elevation and the state of atmospheric refraction permit.

The Light Tower is 70 feet high from base to top of Lantern, and will be painted in three rings horizontally: the top and bottom rings being white, the middle ring red.

Ship Ontario, at Sagharbor 5th, spoke Dec 19, lat 148, lon 38 W, ships Java, Thompson, F H, for coast of Peru, clean; same day, Emily Morgan, Ewer, N B, for Pacific, clean. Capt Brown, of the Ontario, says: "On my way home when in lat 13 10 S, lon 163 W, I saw what appeared at first to be a small sand island with perhaps a dozen cocoa nut trees on it. But on approaching the island I found it extended some distance to the East, and could see some five or six other clusters of trees, probably 8 or 10 miles farther East, which appeared like separate islands, but were probably connected by low sandy beaches, making it dangerous on approaching them in the night or thick weather. I passed the West end of the island within one mile; it being near night with rainy weather I could not determine how far the land extended to the eastward, but I think not over 12 miles. There is no land marked in this place on my chart, or mentioned in any book in my possession. I suppose these islands to be "Suwarrow's Islands," which are laid down in the charts one degree farther West. An error which probably led to the loss of the bark Gem, of New Bedford, in Dec. 1848.

The West point of this island is in lat 13 10 S, lon 162 55 W, given by two chronometers corrected at Ohio, S I, and found to be correct at Cape Horn."

On the 19th March, in lat 31 37 S, lon 178 45 E, the wreck of a vessel, bottom up, was fallen in with, and from the description given, it was readily identified by her owners as that of the Emigrant. Extract of a letter to Messrs Hicks & Bailey, from Capt Seth M. Swain, late commander of the packet schr John Dunlap, on the Sacramento River—

The distance from San Francisco to Benicia, is 28 miles. Navigation good—depth of water 5 to 20 fathoms. Anchorage good from Benicia to New York, 15 miles—channel crooked—bottom hard at some places and soft at others—depth of water, 16 feet in the channel—several shoal places with only 4, 6 and 8 feet water, and hard bottom New York to Sacramento City, 65 miles—river crooked, bottom soft. At the entrance of the river is a bar, with only 10 feet water; 15 miles above is another bar, with 9 feet water, and 4 miles farther up is the Hog's Back, with only 8 1-2 feet. All these bars have hard bottoms. Depth of the river, excepting the bars mentioned above, is from 11 feet to 7 fathoms. In Aug. and September, being the time I was on the river, it was very shoal, and very little tide. The usual rise and fall of the tide is three feet. From December to middle of May the current runs down from three to five miles per hour, which makes it difficult to get up unless by steam. From December to April, vessels drawing 14 feet can go without risk to Sacramento City; after that time the river falls very fast. Vessels can lie alongside the banks perfectly safe without touching bottom.

The following letter from a correspondent of the New Bedford Mercury, at Hong Hong, gives some further particulars of the loss of ship Formosa, of that port:—

HONG KONG, Feb. 25.—Dear Sir: We regret having to report the loss of the whaleship 'Formosa,' of your port. She was lost on the 15th inst. Our information is contained in a letter from Shanghae, under date of 13th inst. from which we give you an extract:—

"The whaleship Formosa was, I find, not lost on the North Bank of the Woosung or Yang-ke-Khau river, as I informed you in my last, but on the South Bank, with Gutzlaff Island in sight. When last heard from she had seven feet water in her hold.—Several of the officers and men from the vessels at Woosung have gone down to her with boats and lorchas to try to save the oil and stores. It is reported she has on board three years' provisions and stores; only five months out from America. Has also some bale goods on board, as cargo, and the oil of five fish. Her intention was to make this port, and as at Sydney forward the oil home in a merchant vessel.—It has proved a very bad beginning."

We enclose a list of such ships as have touched here this year for supplies, with memo. of oil and bone shipped to England. Yours, &c.

The list of ships touched at Hong Kong, has before been published. The following vessels have transhipped oil and bone to England—Envoy of N Bedford, 1820 bbls wh oil and 40,000 lbs bone; Dartmouth, do, 180 bbls sp oil and 11,612 lbs bone; Isaac Howland, do, 363 bbls wh 101 do sp oil; Awashonks, Falmouth, 138 bbls sp oil.

The letter states that all hands had left the ship, and that she was bound to Talcahuana to endeavor to procure a new crew and continue the whaling voyage. LOSS OF SHIP ISABELLA, OF NEW BEDFORD.

A letter from Mrs. Brayton, wife of Capt. Brayton, late of the Isabella, of New Bedford, dated at Talcahuano, Mch 3d, reports the loss of that ship on the south end of the Island of Chiloe, in a thick fog, on the 31st Jan'y last, at 5 P. M. and the death of the captain shortly after. The officers and crew abandoned her on the morning of the 1st Feb, and arrived at St Carlos on the 9th. Mrs B. would take passage in the Columbia of Nantucket, for home. The Isabella sailed from New Bedford Sept 13, 1848, and was last reported as sailing from Talcahuano Dec 26, '49, with 600 bbls sp oil.

The Isabella is insured for $40,000, as follows:—$5000 at the Warren office, Boston; $4500 at the Whaling, $7100 at the Pacific, and the remainder at the Mutual Marine and Bedford Commercial offices in New Bedford.

The letter also reports at Talcahuano same date, ships Adeline Gibbs, of Fairhaven, and Spartan, of Nant, oil not stated.

The editor of the New Bedford Mercury has been favored with the perusal of a letter from Mrs. Brayton, the wife of Capt. B. of the Isabella, (reported wrecked) from which he extracts the following additional particulars of this melancholy disaster:—The Isabella struck upon a sunken rock off the south end of the Island of Chiloe, and shortly after the crew had left her she drifted off, when a boat was sent on board, and finding but 3 feet of water in the hold the boats were again hoisted up, and the pumps manned, in the hope of reaching St. Carlos in the ship. The body of Capt. Brayton was taken on board, and every means taken to restore it, but life was extinct. The next morning, when it was found that the ship was fast filling and settling, and that she must shortly be abandoned, the body of Capt. B. was committed to the waves. The crew left the ship on the first, and the mate's boat, in which was Mrs. Brayton, reached San Carlos on the 9th Feb, being out two nights in a boat, and 6 nights on the beach, with no shelter but a boat sail. The weather was very bad, the wind blowing a gale, and raining almost incessantly night and day. The mate's boat was separated from the others the first night after leaving the ship, and on its arrival at San Carlos none of the other boats had arrived. By the 24th, all the crew reached that port except the 3d mate and boat's crew, who up to that time had not been heard from. Mr Allen's (2d mate) boat was stove in attempting to leave the shore, but another boat being in company the crew were saved. Mrs. B. and the ship's company (except Mr. Austin, mate) left St. Carlos on the 3d March and arrived at Talcahuano on the 5th. The next morning the ship Com Morris, of Falmouth, arrived with the other boat's crew, having picked them up some 20 miles from Valdivia. One man, a Kanaka, who had been sick, died the second night after leaving the ship. The crew of the Isabella had all joined other vessels at Talcahuano. Mr. Allen, 2d mate, would come home in the Columbia, of Nantucket, to sail Mch 14th; Mr Chase, 3d mate, would sail on the 13th, as 3d mate of the Archer, of N Bedford.

Capt Spencer, late of ship Triton of N Bedford, arrived here yesterday from Honolulu, via California, and reports:—Brig Tuskar, Walden, from Boston Aug 6, Valparaiso Jan 7, for San Francisco, arrived at Honolulu Mch 13th, dismasted. On the 22d Feb, in lat 28 40 N, lon 135 30 W, at 8 45 PM, experienced a sudden, violent squall fm NW, which carried away all the stanchions to which the chain plates of the starboard fore rigging was bolted, together with the planksheer and rail, in consequence of which the foremast was immediately carried away about 10 feet above the deck, dragging the mainmast and jib boom after it; carrying away the rail and one of the stanchions of the main rigging, and unstepping and splitting the bowsprit, leaving the vessel a complete wreck. The spars getting under the pottom, was obliged to veer them astern, and another squall coming on soon after, parted the lines, and all the spars with the rigging and sails were lost. After getting urymasts rigged, finding it impossible to get into any port in California, we bore up for Honolulu, and arrived as above stated.

Brig Brothers, Sowle, fm Lahaina in Feb last, for California, returned to Honolulu Mch 8th, having been found to be on fire when about half way to California. After some unavailing attempts to extinguish the fire, shr put back, and after burning 14 ds they succeeded in subduing the destructive element and finally extinguished it. We learn that her cargo and almost everything inside the vessel has been destroyed, and that her preservation at all is almost miraculous, as the fire had reached within a few inches of some powder on board, the explosion of which would doubtless have blown her to pieces. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been accidental.

Capt Gardner, of brig Joseph Butler, of this port, has forwarded the following account of vessels which have touched at Talcahuano, which he copied from the books of the Am. Consul:—Mch 1st, ship Columbia, Chase, of this port, 1500 sp 100 wh; Cadmus, 120 ds fm Sagharbor, for San Francisco; 3d, Spartan, Morselander, of this port, 700 sp; 4th, schr Wm A Tarlton, 136 ds fm Newburyport, for San Francisco; 5th, Java, Stanton, N B, 400 sp; Hercules, Fisher, do, 250 sp 30 wh; Gold Hunter, 120 ds fm Fall River, for San Francisco; schr Wm E Collis, 100 ds fm New York, for do; 6th, brig Glenco, 130 ds fm do, for do; 7th, steamer Gold Hunter, of do, 27 ds fm Rio Janeiro, for do: 9th, Herald, Macomber, N B, 230 sp; 10th, Chas Carroll, 89 ds fm N London, for San Francisco; 11th, Lydia, Worth, F H, 900 sp 30 wh; Statira, Coon, NB, 700 sp: schr Abby B Chase, 104 ds fm N Bedford, for San Francisco; brig Ark, 130 ds fm Newburyport, for San Francisco; 13th, bark Valparaiso, Cleveland, N B, 700 sp; bark Dryade, Fisher, 78 days fm San Francisco.

Capt Robinson, of the Pride, whaler, lying at Recherche Bay, met with the Am whaler Planter, the captain of which stated that two men, supposed to be natives of Sydney, he having engaged them at that port, upon being out to sea, showed strong indications of a murderous disposition, and on the last occasion demanded some of the cabin biscuit, which having been refused, they broke open the hold. He (the captain) ordered them to desist or he would fire at them. One of the men was in the act of hoisting a basket of bread to his companion, when the captain, having a revolving pistol, shot the one in the hold, who immediately expired; upon turning round, the other man (who was just upon the eve of striking him with a whale spear) received the contents of another barrell which carried away the fingers of the right hand, and otherwise wounded him, but not mortally; there were several other men, each armed with spears, spades, harpoons and tomahawks, who upon seeing their companions fall, retired, and have since shown not the slightest inclination to mutiny. The captain further states that he took a rope, made a running noose, twisted it round his wrist, hauled up the body, pitched it overboard, and that in a few minutes nothing could have been told of the late fracas except that he had lost one hand, and the other man he had shot lost another.—[Hobart Town Paper.

Pernambuco, April 9, 1850.—To the editor of the New Bedford Mercury:—To the eastward of the lighthouse of Pernambuco two iron buoys have been placed—one painted black and the other red—to determine the position of the English Bank. Each of these buoys have a bell attached, to warn the navigator at night of his approach. In consequence of the prevailing wind and the murmuring of the waves, often the bell will not be heard at a short distance.—The buoy painted red denotes the southern extremity of the bank, and the black buoy the northern extremity.

Vessels can call always to the eastward of these buoys but it is only at high water that vessels can pass between these buoys, drawing under ten feet of water. From the red buoy to the south there is water for any vessel, but from the black buoy to the north there is only a canal that can be navigated by the pilots, as close to the northern extremity exists the bank of Olinda. Picked up at sea by ship Columbia, at this port, June 7th, 1850, in lat 35 N, lon 72 20 West, a spar (apparently a vessel's main boom) with a Shawmut cotton duck sail, three patent blocks, and some rope attached to it. Two of the blocks were brauded "Pattern, January 31st. H. Alden & Co., Manufacturers, Camden, Maine."

The loss of an American vessel at Arguin, on the coast of Africa, and the capture of her captain, mate and second mate, by the natives, as reported by Capt Yarrington, of brig Angola, at Boston about 30th ult from the coast of Africa, has before been noticed. Capt Y. was unable to ascertain the name or class of the vessel, or any further particulars, except that the three men were ransomed by a Moor in Dec., and remained in his possession up to April last.

The following is a copy of a letter from Richard Lloyd, Esq., agent of the Lloyds, London, to the Commodore of the African Squadron, dated—

RIVER GAMBIA, Bathurst, April 8, 1850.

To Com. Gregory, U. S. Squadron, W. coast Africa:

Sir—A Moor from Portendick, bearer of a letter from the king of Tragusta to his excellency the Governor, informed me that there are three American subjects, a captain, mate and second mate, under his care and protection, at Portendick. It appears from his account that a vessel got on shore at Arguin, and another vessel passing took away part of her crew and cargo and burnt the vessel, but six men landed and were taken prisoners by the savages, three of which died and three were surviving and ransomed by him, and brought to Portendick. The Moor claims a sum of $1000 as a return for the ransom he paid the Arguin people for their freedom, and a remuneration for the trouble he has had in the matter. He has left a paper with me, on production of which he will deliver them up. I have thought it an act of humanity as well as duty to communicate these facts to you. I have the honor to be, &c.

Extract of a letter from Capt Evans, of the whale ship Warren, of Warren, to a friend in Boston:

Hong Kong, 24th March, 1850.

I arrived here on the 16th of this month, leaking, but have found and stopped the leak. I find every advantage here in fitting and recruiting my ship, at about one half the expense I should have incurred at Oahu, Sandwich Islands; and I am now satisfied that the masters of the whaling fleet are in the dark respecting this place and its advantages, or they would not make such large bills at the Islands as they do.

I have been here one week, have overhauled my ship, got plenty of necessary recruits and at reasonable rates. Above all, you can get here any quantity of good Irish potatoes, which is the main point with us when bound to the north for a season. Men are easily procured here, and I have supplied the place of all those I lost at the Sandwich Islands by desertion.

I have now everything right, and for the first time this voyage. In this port I have had no trouble.—Had I came here a year ago I should have hit it, and been able to have remained on the whale ground and made a good season's work, instead of having to put away as I did with my crew down with the scurvy. I would recommend all who wish to make a saving in lisbursing their ships to come here. My consignees here are Messrs Rawle, Drinker & Co, and they have afforded me every advantage I could ask for.

While ship Caroline, Plaskett, of New Bedford, was lying at Hilo in Mch last, the second mate, Mr Dow, a boatecrer named John Dow, the carpenter, blacksmith, and Francis Sawyer, seaman, deserted with a boat. They took provisions, watch, quadrant, &c., and are supposed to have left for California.

The storm of Friday last was very severe and extended as far South as Delaware, doing considerable damage to the shipping. In the harbor of New York the packet ship Constellation, outward bound, dragged her anchors and touched on the flats, off Bedlow's Island. She was towed off on Saturday, without having received serious damage. Ship Martha, sent home as a prize on suspicion of being engaged in the slave trade, lying at quarantine, dragged her anchors and went ashore near Duxbury Point, Staten Island. She would be got off with slight injury.—The marshal sent two steamboats to her assistance and to bring up the prisoners yesterday, if possible. It was reported that the ship Guy Mannering, bound to New York, was ashore outside the Hook. A large ship was seen Friday, east of Hart's Island, at anchor, with loss of fore and main masts. It was understood that several vessels were ashore on the Sound. All the vessels lying at quarantine and in the North River, bound out, dragged their anchors, and many in the East River were chafed, and otherwise damaged, by collision with each other and the piers.

In Philadelphia a large number of small vessels lying at the wharves were wrecked, but we see none mentioned belonging in this vicinity. It is reported that a schooner called the Two Sisters was capsized 12 miles below the city, and that seven persons aboard of her were drowned.

The water in the Schuylkill has risen to an unusual height, threatening a destructive flood.

It was reported in Edgartown Sunday, that the Vineyard Pilot boat Hornet was lost in the gale of Friday.

On the evening of the 19th inst, saw a hermaphrodite brig and topsail schr ashore on Hereford bar; the brig was headed towards the beach, the schr appeared to be full of water. It being dark at the time, could not make out how they were painted. They appeared to have gone ashore in the late gale. 19th, off Egg Harbor, saw a large ship with the loss of all her top masts.

MELANCHOLY SHIPWRECK.—The ship Elizabeth, Halsey, from Leghorn for New York, went ashore on Fire Island, on Friday, the 19th inst, and went to pieces immediately on striking the beach.—There were on board five cabin passengers, and eighteen men belonging to the ship. Five of the crew perished, with all the passengers. Among the latter was Sarah Margaret Fuller, recently bearing the title of Countess Ossoli, acquired by marriage while in Italy. Her husband and child accompanied her, and were also lost. The body of the child, two years old, was washed ashore. The Elizabeth had on board Powers' statue of John C. Calhoun, which has gone to the bottom. It is expected it will be recovered.

The New York papers contain a report of the "loss of the American whaling bark America, Tucker, of New Bedford, at the Bay of Islands in March last."—The report is evidently erroneous, as the America is known to have sailed from Hong Kong on the 28th March last, for the Arctic Seas.

WRECK OF THE MARGARET.—The Am. whale-ship Margaret, Capt Fales, wrecked on the 25th of February, at Huahina, one of the Society Islands, was going in for slight repairs. A native pilot was taken on board, who most unfortunately run the vessel on the reef, the sea being smooth, weather pleasant and wind favorable. The Margaret had 2200 barrels of oil on board. It was sold at auction at $2 30 per bbl. They succeeded in saving 2100 bbls of the oil. The vessel was almost a total wreck, being sold for a small amount. Capt West was the purchaser, who freighted his vessel and sailed for the United States. Capt Fales and family embarked on board the Jeannette. Some of the crew left for Tahiti. Mr. Spooner, 1st officer, and Mr. Jordan, 2d officer, have arrived in Honolulu, passengers per French vessel.—[Friend, May 1.

In relation to whale ship Franklin, of and for Sagharbor, from Pacific, with upwards of 3300 bbls wh oil, before reported ashore 70 miles N of Pernambuco, we learn that at the latest accounts from her, June 8, she had not bilged, and that there were strong hopes of saving a large part of her cargo. A letter received at Sagharbor, from Capt Cooper, late of ship Franklin, of that port, gives further particulars of the loss of that vessel, as follows:—The evening before the disaster we were sailing down the coast at a distance of from 15 to 20 miles from the shore; after dark steered NNW until 9 P M; (the coast here stands about N and S; after 9 P M steered one point off shore. After she struck (time not given) she beat heavily for about four hours, when she crossed the reef, full of water. The crew had barely time to save their clothing. Panded next morning in safety. During the day she fell over, bringing her masts into the water; we put off from the shore to cut away her masts. The following morning started in a boat for Pernambuco. Insured for $20,000, viz: $10,000 in the Hartford Protection Co., and $10,000 in the Atlantic Co. Capt Cooper had $2000 insured on his share; he was also a large owner in the ship.

The report of the loss of brig Robert, Collins, of and fm Fall River for California, is probably incorrect, as there were letters received in Fall River on Thursday last, written by passengers on board that vessel, which report her at San Carlos, Chili, April 28, all well.

A letter from San Francisco, dated June 26, mentions a report that ship Josephine, from New Bedford for San Francisco, had been condemned at Valparaiso. As the J. was at Talcahuano May 17, and was not reported at Valparaiso up to last dates, which are a week later than anything from San Francisco, there was probably no ground for the report.

A letter from Capt Swift, of sch Robert Raikes, of Provincetown, dated July 30, reports her with 90 bbls sp oil. Had spoken, June 22d, bark Rothschild, Small, of Boston, clean; July 19, lat 33 lon 44, barks Spartan, Cook, of P. 165 sp; Parker Cook, Cook, do, clean; brigs Jane Hrwes, Young, do, 150 sp; Medford, Dyer, do, 70 sp; schs Washington Irving, (not Walter Erven) Nickerson, do, 125 sp; A Nickerson, Sparks, do, clean.

A letter from Mr James H. Adams, of this town, dated at San Francisco, in July last, states that ship Orion, of this port had been condemned at Bay of Islands, and encloses in his letter the following particulars:

From a Wellington paper of Match 17:—"A few days ago, the whale ship Orion, Capt. Ray, of Nantucket, 56 months out, entered the harbor in a crippled state. Her master decided on shipping the oil to England, but the authorities compelled him to land it for guaging instead of placing it at once on board the Cornelia or Woodstock. The captain came in for shelter and protection, and an advantage is taken of his situation, which to say the least is ungenerous and unbecoming. A few months since, the William C. Nye, Capt. Rose, of New London, was permitted to tranship some oil without touching the shore. Why not the same permission extended in this case? We should place every facility in reach of foreigners seeking our port, more especially when entering the harbor in the plight of the Orion."

The Orion was advertised to be sold at public auction "on account of whom it might concern," on the 26th of March, with all her material, and cargo, consisting of 1,000 bbls sperm and 40 whale oil. She was partly owned by citizens of California, who, we understand, were fully insured.

The same ships at home would bring $15,000 or $20,000. Property is sacrificed here in a cruel manner, and those who have money can make money. I have seen fine ships, company ships, sold for $10,000, just as they arrived here, with full cargoes of assorted articles. DISASTERS.

Schr Marinah N., Capt. Bryant, came ashore at the head of the harbor, east side of this Island, on Sunday morning last, during the Southeasterly storm, and now lies high and dry upon the beach, apparently not much injured. The M. is a vessel less than a year old, and will probably be got off. She is from Boston, in ballast, bound to Philadelphia, where we learn she belongs. Probably insured, but the Capt. is not positive as to that matter.

Brig Mary Perkins, Capt. Chase, went ashore on the flats at the Northeast of Tuckernuck, on Sunday, during the violent gale. She is fm Pictou, bound to Wareham, loaded with coal. Lighters are alongside of her for the purpose of taking out the coal, which will be taken by them to Wareham. The vessel will probably be got off without much damage after her cargo is out. We learn that the vessel and cargo are insured.

A schooner was seen on fire Monday, at the east side of this Island, and at 5 o'clock on the same evening was still burning, and was about five miles Northeast of Sancoty Head lighthouse. A boat had been sent to her from a brig which was near her.—The schooner was dismasted, and is supposed to have been loaded with lime.

The gale on Sunday between the hours of 10 A.M. and 2 P. M, was more severe than any which has been experienced here since October, 1841. The wind did not vary much from North during this time, but had been blowing hard from Southeast, for several hours previous to the change.

Sch Alabama, (believed of Dennis) Sears, was capsized in the Delaware, off Marcus Hook, afternoon of the 6th, in a sudden squall, and when last seen was floating down river. The S. had just been in to Fayal to land a man to have an arm amputated on account of a stab which he had received in a quarrel with another of the crew. July 1, spoke bark Roanoke, of Greenport, 1 month out, 5 bbls blackfish oil; 10th, ship Mary, Henry, NB; 11th, got fast to two sp whales, saved but one, which made but 103 bbls; 22d, raised a school of sp whs. Capt. Cook struck one, and when about to throw another lance the whale turned and upset the boat, and then struck her with his flukes. John Hoxie, boatsteerer, was caught by the line, and his foot taken off at the ankle joint. Mr. H. while in the water, took out his knife and cut six or eight turns from his leg. The waist boat picked up the crew; the mate's boat gave chase to the whale, which was an ugly customer—when within about ten darts of the boat he would turn over and come towards her with his mouth open. Finally the whale got into the vicinity of the ship; it being calm could not get out of his way.—He made for the ship and struck her in the bows, knocking the cutwater one side, but doing no other damage. The captain at last got his gun and bomb lance. He fired three times into the whale, and then went up and killed him. The whale made about 95 bbls. Mr. Hoxie was landed at Fayal July 26th.

Capt Luce writes that whales have been very scarce for the last 6 months, and ships have done poorly. The fleet on the off shore the past season have not averaged 50 bbls. The California excitement continues to be of the greatest disadvantage to the whaling business, causing the desertion of seamen, and enhancing the prices of all articles required for recruits to the most exhorbitant rates. Three vessels are now lying at Tombez waiting to load potatoes for California, at $3 per barrel. The deserters at Tombez have generally been retaken and returned to their ships, which is not the case at Paita, where facilities constantly occur for runaways to get on board of vessels bound to California. I should advise vessels bound to the Pacific to make Tombez their port for recruiting ship.

Brig Albion Cooper, which went ashore at Great Point on the 9th inst, was got off on Friday morning last, by the assistance of steamer Massachusetts, of this port, after discharging into a lighter about forty thousand feet of the lumber which she had on deck. This lumber has been taken to Edgartown, where the brig has gone to take it in. She appeared to have suffered but very little from lying on the bottom. She is a new and strong vessel, otherwise she must have received serious damage, as she lay very much exposed for five or six days. After she was afloat, her leak was but trifling.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—In accordance with the petitions of ship masters, pilots and others, the Pollock Rip light boat will, when she resumes her station, show a white light.

LOSS OF SHIP CHARLES DREW, OF NEW BEDFORD. We are sorry to report the loss of the ship Charles Drew, Carey, master, 10 months out, with 1300 bbls of oil and 10,000 lbs bone. She left Lahaina on Tuesday the 22d Oct, and ran down to this port on Wednesday morning, all ready for sea, except the lack of some men which she came here to ship.—The captain left the ship and came on shore, leaving the mate in charge, and the ship standing off and on. About midnight on Wednesday, she struck on the reef, a short distance to the westward of the harbor, and although the wind was off the shore, she could not be got off. As the tide ebbed she thumped heavily, carrying away her rudder and stern post, and will, it is feared, soon go to pieces. The cargo will be saved but it is feared the ship will be an entire loss.—[Polynesian, Oct 26.

THE WRECK OF THE CHAS. DREW. Immediately on learning that a ship was ashore, a boat was despatched from the Dolphin under command of Lieut Fox, and soon got alongside. Lieut F found everything in confusion, but the command being given to him he soon commenced restoring things to order.—The crew of the Chas Drew behaved in a most shameful and unworthy manner. They commenced bringing up their chests and collecting together their effects, and were deserting the vessel at once: and nothing but a determined spirit on the part of Lieut Fox, prevented them from this dastardly conduct.

Great credit is due to Lieut McGuire of H B M ship Herald, who immediately repaired on board with a large boat, and numerous crew, and at once proffered his services in assisting the ship. At great risk to his boat, which was the largest alongside, he took out an anchor and assisted in getting down the yards and upper masts, thus relieving the ship from much of her heavy thumping. This act from the English officer is highly praiseworthy, and merits the highest commendation, which it certainly receives from all in this community.

Much praise is also due to Capt Lane and others who rendered their aid on the occasion; and it is to be regretted that the prompt exertions of so many experienced nautical gentlemen did not save the ship, but she was too hard aground, with the wind abeam, to be got off. She drew 15 feet water, and there was only 12 found, which shows that she was pretty hard on and the attempt to get her off necessarily a hopeless one.

The wreck, as now lying on the reef, was sold on the 30th Oct, to Messrs Coady & Co, for $1350.

[Polynesian, Nov 2.

[The Chas Drew was a good vessel of 344 tons, new ly topped previous to her last voyage, and was owned by Messrs Wm Gifford, O & Geo O Crocker, and others of N Bedford. His complaint, as well as I can understand from the doctors here, was general debility. He had frequently complained to me on the voyage that there was something wrong in his stomach, but did nothing for it, and apparently thought but little of it. A few days before his death he had a sore come on his right hand which troubled him very much; he could get no rest for a number of days, and by his request I gave him opium pills, in the first watch of the evening of the 26th Nov.—About 2 o'clock next morning he fell asleep, apparently well except his hand; at 6 o'clock next morning I went below to call him and found him dead.—We buried him at sea on the 28th, as we could keep him no longer.

I have taken charge of the ship and shall proceed on the voyage as nearly as possible to your satisfaction, and shall endeavor to proceed as Capt Tinkham commenced, and according to your instructions. Whale ship India, of N Bedford, bd home, and bk Croton, Watson, also for the U. States, in leaving Honolulu Dec 7, got in contact. The India lost flying jib boom and all her forward rigging, and suffered considerably in other respects. It was found necessary to careen her over immediately, to prevent the water from entering, which was promptly done by Capt Meek, who was on board and just ready to take her to sea. In consequence of this accident the passengers of the Croton were all obliged to disembark until the necessary repairs could be made.

The following letter from Capt McCleave, of ship Richard Mitchell, of this port, is published in the Alta California.
Capt McCleave reports:—"On the 22d of May, 1850, lat 25 N, long 176 E, light breezes from NE, and fair weather, at 2 30 PM saw a large sperm whale heading to the SSW and going quick; at 3 lowered two boats, Mr Pitman and Mr Russell; at 3 30 saw more whales to leeward; lowered the other two boats, Mr. Winslow and Mr. Jones; at 5 30 Mr. Jones struck a whale; Messrs. Pitman and Winslow being near, struck the same whale; Mr. Russell being one mile to leeward in pursuit of more whales, and close on, made signals for one boat to cut and go to leeward; cut Mr Winslow's boat from the whale and went to leeward, the sun half an hour high; at this time lost sight of Mr. Russell's boat's sails, bearing from the ship SW by W, 4 miles distant; lost sight of the boat's sails from the other boats at the same time. At dark, having no doubt Mr. Winslow had the run of Mr. Russell's boat, took the dead whale alongside and kept off for the other boats. At 10 PM took Mr. Winslow's boat alongside; he had seen nothing of Mr. Russell after his taking in his sails. Lay with the foretopsail aback and sent the boats off in search, making signals from the ship during the night; had a gentle breeze and the moon near the full. At daylight could see nothing of missing boat; at 8 AM called the boats on board. We judged now, by what we had run and drifted through the night, the boat must be to windward; cast loose from the whale, after waifing her, and made sail, working to windward on short tacks; worked to windward until we judged we were as far as we were the night previous, and then worked off to leeward. We cruised about here eight days making signals nights, but saw no indication of the boat; we saw the dead whale three different times, but he was past taking. We had fine weather while searching for the boat, with a current running to the westward from one and a half to two miles per hour; and I have no doubt that if the boat had been afloat I should have found her. My opinion is, that she was taken down by a whale, and the effects from her swept off by the current. Mr. Winslow thinks that if she had been afloat he would have seen her before night came on; and Mr. Russell would have cut from a whale at dark, as I had given them all strict orders to do so, for Mr. Pitman had a narrow escape the last season, off Japan, by striking a whale at night and holding on alone. The following were the persons in the boat: Mr. Russell, Nantucket; Joseph Antonio, Azores; Jonathan L. Weston, Mass.; Horace Welch, shipped at New Zealand; Frank Sousa, shipped at Pico; Charley, a native, shipped at Raratonga.
Sag Harbor, Feb. 11. A letter dated Callao, Jan 5, '51, received on Saturday last, from Mr. David Loper, first officer of ship Panama, (owned by Messrs N & G Howell of this place) repts her arrival at Callao leaky, and condemned as unseaworthy. The Panama sailed from this port in July last for San Francisco, with a cargo principally of coal. Capt Hallock was then waiting the arrival of some steamer in the hope of making sale of his cargo, as the ruling prices at the date of the letter, at that port, would not pay the cost of discharging. The Panama previous to the present voyage had been for many years successfully employed in the whaling business from this port.

FALKLAND ISLANDS—IMPORTANT TO MARINERS TRADING ROUND CAPE HORN.—It ought to be generally known to captains of vessels trading to the west coast of South America, California, and the islands in the Pacific, that Stanley is a free port in the East Falkland Island, the extreme leeward point of the group, lat 51 40 1-2 S, lon 57 49 W. The port of Stanley possesses peculiar advantages: it is easily entered, well protected, has a safe anchorage, and is a most desirable harbor of refuge during the westerly gales so prevalent in the latitude of Cape Horn. In addition to these advantages, it possesses numerous others: it is situated directly in the course of vessels going to or returning from the Pacific, and is generally sighted by them; it furnishes, what ships after a long voyage, so much want, fresh water, fresh beef, cheap and abundant, and vegetables of every description at very moderate charges.

The advantage to emigrant ships of having an immediate port in the Atlantic, where they can obtain fresh supplies on reasonable terms, without incurring the heavy charges of the Brazilian ports, must be very obvious, as much of the space used for stowing provisions and water might be more profitably employed in carrying passengers and cargo.

Application has been made to the government to erect a Tower Light House on Cape Pembroke, the southeast point of the East Falkland Island, on which a telegraph may also be placed. When this is done it will greatly assist captains who have not been there before, although there is no danger in approaching the islands, all sunken rocks being naturally buoyed by the kelp.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.—The following letter was addressed to the editors of the Honolulu Friend, Nov 18, 1850, by W E on board whaling barque J E Donnell, of N Bedford:—

It may not be generally known that our charts are not altogether correct in regard to the Japanese Islands; especially that part which delineates the small islands off the mouth of the bay of Jeddo and the coast of Niphon, immediately to the eastward of the Cape Soukaki, as far as Cape King. Broughton's Rocks are laid down on the charts in the latitude of 33 30, while at noon May 6, 1850, in the latitude of 34 04, they were distinctly visible from our vessel's deck. The highest of these rocks, six in number, is not higher than the hull of a common sized ship, and could not be discerned from a ship's deck more than 12 miles. It may be safely concluded that they are 20 miles farther north than the charts place them.—The same may be said of Vulcan's and Prince's Islands. Cape King is not only out of the way in latitude, but in longitude also. At 3 o'clock, P. M., May 7, last, our latitude was 25 55, and longitude by two good chronometers, confirmed by three sets of lunar observations, was 110 deg. 42 min. 45 sec.—This would place us directly to eastward of Cape Awa 30 miles. By our course we passed within ten miles of the place assigned to that Cape, yet no lands could be seen less than 40 miles distant. The conclusion then is that all these islands are laid down too far to eastward by twenty-five or thirty miles, and two far southward at least twenty miles. Our chronometers, a few days subsequent to this, were proven by comparison with Capt. Vires, east end of Itouroup or Staten Islands, where we found them correct.

I cannot close this without speaking more fully of Broughton's rocks. The cluster extends in an ESE and WNW line. There are six of them, and are not over one mile and a half from one extremity to the other. We first saw them at 4 o'clock in the morning. The lookout first saw them, or rather only two of them, and supposed they were dead whales; he showed them to one of the boat-steerers, who reported them to me as Chinese junks, but that they were rolling about terribly; they were then off the lee beam with the sea washing over them. I saw they were rocks and ran forward to see if there were any more ahead. I saw two off the lee bow about 4 points, not over a quarter of a mile distant. Stopping a moment to see the drift of the ship and that the sails were full, for we were steering E. by N, with the wind N. by E., I ran and called the Captain. By the time he came on deck, we had a full sense of the danger we had just passed through. There were two more rocks off the weather quarter, making six in all. We had drifted in an east course through a passage not more than half a mile in width, between two rocks bearing ESE, and WNW from each other. While we were yet in doubt how the ship would get out of her troubles, a sudden shift of wind struck the sails aback. This, with a heavy shower of rain, rendered it impossible to distinguish any object more than three ship lengths distant, gave us great anxiety until daylight came and it cleared away, when we found ourselves clear of all danger. While we were enveloped in the fog and the ship going ahead some three or four knots, one of the sailors said it would not do for the old ship to run aboul of one of them rocks, for it would not store well in the fore peak. These rocks are laid down 10 miles too far to eastward, and 20 too far to southward, therefore they may be placed in lat 34 50 N, and lon 139 20 E. They are small and low. The longest is not over three ship's length in extent; they are dangerous for they may be approached in a light wind of a night without being able to hear the breakers for the strong current continually setting to E N E, forms a noisy tide rip near them. We could scarcely wear after being aware of their proximity.

SOW AND PIGS LIGHT.

The following notice, containing a gross and unwarrantable imputation upon the Superintendent of Light Houses in this District, has been published in several Boston papers of the present week:

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

IMPORTANT TO MARINERS PASSING THROUGH VINEYARD SOUND. The Light Boat President, heretofore stationed SW by W from the Sow and Pigs, distant a large half mile, has been recently removed to a point WNW from the Sow and Pigs, distant about a mile and a quarter. No public notice has been given of the change of position, and as masters and pilots who are not informed of the change are liable to be misled, to the great peril of life and property, the undersigned deems it his duty to publish this notice. PETER DAGGETT, Holmes Hole, Mch. 31, 1851. Branch Pilot.

To show that this Branch Pilot has either, through ignorance or malice, set his name to a palpable falsehood, we clip from our February files, a paragraph conspicuously and repeatedly inserted under the Marine head of the Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly Mercury—whence it was at the time extensively copied into other papers,—and republish the same, as follows:—[N. B. Mercury.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

[Correspondence of the N. B. Mercury.]

Hong Kong, Jan. 24th, 1851.—Since ours of Nov 28th, we have in the following whale ships: ship Sheffield, of Cold Spring, Roys, fm the Arctic Seas, 3200 bbls Polar oil, and 45,000 lbs whalebone; ship Bowditch, of Warren, Waldron, fm the Arctic, 2100 bbls oil, 25,000 lbs bone; ship Hobomok, of Falmouth, Calott, 700 bbls sp oil; French ship Cosmopolite, of Havre, fm Arctic, 1400 bbls oil, bone shipped fm the Islands. The commanders of the above vessels, report that we may expect here during the month of Feb, about thirty more ships, among which will be the Mt Wollaston, Abigail, Saratoga, Daniel Webster, Armata, Covington, Luminary and Cincinnati. The Mary Frazier is at Guam.

On the 31st August, whilst the Sheffield was lying at anchor in the Arctic Ocean, it commenced blowing hard. In getting underweigh to beat off shore, all the castings of the windlass gave way, which caused Capt Roys to leave the whaling ground much earlier than he intended. On the 26th Nov in the North Pacific in a heavy gale, he lost three boats with the davits, and all the gear attached; also an entire suit of sails, with other damage, all of which has been repaired here. The Hobomok came in for a new main mast, the old one being much decayed, under and above the truss band. The Sheffield has shipped to London 2000 bbls oil, and all her bone; the Bowditch 400 bbls oil, and her bone at a very low freight, on board the English ship Hugh Walker. Every care and attention has been given to the stowage of the oil, and in the Charter Party, it was stipulated that the oil should be wet twice a week, to prevent loss from leakage. In consequence of the great loss on previous shipments of oil from the Islands, many have been deterred from making shipments, it being supposed that a merchant ship cannot carry a cargo of oil safe. Such precautions have been taken with this shipment, we trust the unfavorable impression will be done away with. We shall feel anxious to learn the result, as our port is likely to be a place of great resort for whale ships. Should this cargo arrive in England without loss, next year large shipments will be made from such vessels as may have too little to return home, and too much to keep on board for another season. There is no port eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, so advantageous for fitting out whale ships as Hong Kong. We have no duties or charges of any kind, provisions are cheap. Vessels would do well to stop out here for some time, and refit here for each cruise, leaving home with an outfit for one season only.

The first of March will be the period for all the vessels to leave here, as they will start to the north with the fair monsoon. The Potato crop is then in its prime, and can be had in abundance at $2,50 per bushel.

Disaster

The hull of a large vessel, bottom up, drifted by Chatham on Friday, and was discovered aground on Long Shoal, on Saturday. Steamer Telegraph, from this port, was dispatched to her on Saturday, and found that some persons from Chatham had followed her, and scuttled her. She was loaded with flour & corn. Her name was not to be ascertained. She was taken in tow by the Telegraph, but could do nothing with her, and left her Saturday night in the Sound. She is a very large vessel; her keel is reported to be 90 feet in length.

A brig was seen on Wednesday, from Chatham, aground on Pollock Rip, which carried away her mainmast, beat over the Rip, and drifted out of sight.

Edgartown, April 25.—The unknown vessel on Tom's shoal, lies with about 8 feet of her keel out at low water. Four holes have been cut in her bottom, and some 20 bbls of flour have been taken out. She appears to be an Eastern built vessel, of about 150 tons, built of beach, and I should think not more than a year old. From what we can see she is a herm. brig. Her name cannot be made out; but it is the same vessel that the Nantucket steamer was fast on Saturday. The following are some of the marks of her cargo, and may assist in identifying the vessel:—One barrel is branded "Venice Mills (in red paint) Ohio"—"M. C." (in black paint) and inspected in New Orleans. Another brand, "Valley Mills,"—"H," no inspection. Another "Isaac Berry"—with some other marks not made out. She was probably laden with corn and flour.

Disaster.—We received the following intelligence on Saturday, by Swain's New Bedford Express:—

Holmes Hole, May 3, 1851.

Brig Minerva arrived here this morning with a part of the crew, ten in number, of a fishing vessel belonging to Harwich. She had been launched only about a month. They state that on Thursday night last, about 8 1-2 o'clock, being then about 20 miles South of Montauk, the vessel was struck by a squall and capsized. The crew were mostly below at the time, and it was with great difficulty that they got out of the gangways. They succeeded in doing so, however, and clung to the side of the vessel. There was a heavy sea running at the time, so that they were continually washed off, and before morning five of the number had been drowned. The remaining number succeeded in clearing the boat from the stern of the vessel, and got into her at about 8 1-2 A. M. on Friday, and were picked up by the Minerva. One man, Henry Johnson, a colored man, of Nantucket, died after reaching the Minerva. The others were all unable to get out of their boat without help. Capt Luce, of the schr O. Cromwell, volunteered and took the men on board his vessel on Saturday morning, and left Holmes Hole for Harwich. They were all quite destitute of clothing. W. C. LUCE.

The remains of Henry Johnson were brought to this place on Saturday.

A very dangerous shoal has been discovered between the Tonga and Fejee Islands, parallels of latitude and longitude not given—a Sand Bank two miles in length, 8 feet of water on the middle, and deepening at both ends. In strong SE winds it does not break, nor can you discern colored water, like that of a reef, any distance off. SHIP ON THE SOUTH SHOAL.—A ship was discovered on Saturday afternoon, from the tower of the Unitarian Church in his town, agronnd on the South Shoal, with her sails set. As soon as possible, after her arrival from New Bedford, the steamer Massachusetts was despatched to her assistance, and reached her at about 9 o'clock in the evening, when the ship was found to be the Jacob Westervelt, 1400 tons burthen, 23 days from Liverpool, bound to New York, with 800 passengers on board. The Massachusetts reached the ship while she was yet aground, and was about getting a line to her when she floated and started from the Shoal. She followed the Massachusetts into deep water, and proceeded on her way to New York. She drew 21 feet of water.

Capt Henry Pease, late of ship Walter Scott, of Edgartown, returned home on Friday, fm Callao, via Panama. He repts that bark Sarah, of Edgartown, touched at Paita and landed Capt Morse, sick, and sailed again on a cruise in charge of the mate. She returned about May 15, and Capt Morse being still sick, the vessel sailed for Callao May 19, whither Capt M. intended to proceed by the steamer, but his health continued to decline and he died on the 27th May. His disease was dropsy. Capt Pease reports sld fm Paita May 25, bark Hesper, Slocum, F H, 500 sp, in charge of mate, Capt Slocum sick. Capt Pease has made four passages from Chili and Peru to San Francisco, crossing the usual whaling ground, during which time he has seen sperm whales but once.

Hong Kong, April 20.—Our whaling season is over, and all the ships have departed for the north. A vessel arrived here a few ds since from Penang and reptd off Point Pigot Feb 28, bark Favorite, Pierce, FH, with 40 bbls oil. We have also received the following account. On the 23d Jan, at an island not laid down on the charts, called by the whalers Kinglap, about 180 miles E of Ascension, and a short distance E of the Caroline Group, Capt Luce, of the bark Boy, of Warren, with a boat's crew was cut off by the natives. The boat had been on shore the day previous, without the natives showing any hostility. A second boat's crew was sent, to endeavor to learn something of the fate of the Capt. and his boat's crew. They were attacked by the natives, and a white man from the shore warned them to leave, as the natives were bringing canoes from the other side of the island to take them. He also informed them that the Captain and all the crew had been murdered. This account we received from one of the crew of the Boy. He came from Ascension in the Oneco of Boston. We have reported this affair to the commanding officer of our squadron in these waters.

Another New Whaler.—Messrs I. Howland, Jr & Co, have contracted with Mr. Reuben Fish, of Fairhaven, for the building of a clipper ship of 360 tons and 2000 bbls capacity. She will be employed in the sperm whale fishery, under command of Capt Reuben Taber, late of the Bartholomew Gosnold, of this port.—[N B. Mercury.

The Clipper Ship Staghound.—A San Francisco correspondent of the Boston Traveller states that the Staghound discharged all her cargo in a damaged condition, and an average bond has to be signed by all consignees.

The whaling ship Kingston, sailed on her second voyage from Panama, on the 19th of June. Her first trip in pursuit of whales was partially a failure, but her owners are satisfied that a profitable business can be done. The orders of the Kingston are to cruise near shore, and not to go very far from the Bay of Panama.

The ship would sail shortly on a cruise. We are not in possession of full particulars.

IMPORTANT TO SHIP MASTERS.—We learn fm Mr. Corwin U. S. Consul for this port, that he is in receipt of dispatches from his colleague at Payta, by which he is informed that Tombez in Peru, is not a port of entry, and that all vessels, except whalers, arriving there from foreign ports, and pretending to unload, or only take on board products of the country are, by the laws of Peru, subject to condemnation and confiscation.

Recently the American brig "Annah," Capt John Erskin, Jr., has been detained at that port for a breach of the revenue laws of the country, seized and her master taken to Payta, with a view to the imposition of a fine upon him of $1,000, notwithstanding his vessel anchored there in distress—her crew being down with the scurvy.

It is deemed advisable, in view of the above facts, that vessels in that quarter requiring a port, had better put into Puna, 12 hours run, or make for the port of Payta, which can be reached in 43 hours.—[Panama Star.
